Winter birdfeeding program at Kortwright's

KLEINBURG - Kortwright's popular Winter Birdfeeding program begins Dec. 1 and runs right through until Dec. 30, every Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Take a hike along Kortwright's elaborate birdfeeder trail and learn to identify many of the birds that call Ontario home. See common winter species such as the chickadee, the blue jay and the cardinal; and if you're lucky, some less common species such as the evening grosbeak. Pick up tips on feeding our feathered friends. Find out about the different types of birdfeeders that can be built and how to create an appealing backyard habitat for birds. Try out the special blend of Kortwright Birdfeed with its high sunflower seed content. It's an excellent holiday gift idea for friends of a feather.

Last but not least, this is the time of year to participate in Kortwright's annual Birdfeeder Contest. Judging will take place Sunday, Dec. 2 at 2 p.m. Join a birdfeeder construction workshop at the Centre where recyclable materials are provided, or bring a feeder you built at home. Judges look for things like originality, how much the birdfeeder holds and how easily the seed is dispersed.

The Kortwright centre is open daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and is located just north of Metro Toronto. Take Highway 400 to Major Mackenzie Drive (at Canada's Wonderland), go west 3 km to Pine Valley Drive, then south 1 km. For further information call (416) 661-6600, ext. 256.
