Canadian Tire offers advice

The Canadian Tire Auto Club shares motorists' concerns about high fuel costs. The most important factor in achieving improved gasoline mileage is you, the driver. Following are fuel-saving tips prepared by the Canadian Tire Auto Club that should help reduce your gasoline consumption:

1. Don't warm up too long. During the winter months, don't waste gas or risk engine damage by warming up too long in idle. Your engine warms up more efficiently when the vehicle is in motion. Make sure the windows are free of frost before you drive off.

2. Accelerate gently. Avoid jack-rabbit starts. Accelerate gently and smoothly to get into highest gear to give your vehicle the best gas mileage.

3. Don't over-ride. If you're stopped for longer than 30 seconds when you're out of traffic, turn your engine off. Re-starting uses less gasoline than idling for long periods of time.

4. Easy on the brake. The more times you brake, the more money you waste. Simply take your foot off the accelerator to slow down and you will save gas.

5. Slow down. You can cut fuel costs significantly by driving at moderate speeds. If you drive at 90 km/h instead of 115 km/h, you will save 20 per cent more gas.

6. Keep your vehicle tuned. A well-tuned car will save five per cent on your fuel bill. Be sure to have the oil, air and fuel filters checked and changed if needed.

7. Always check your tires closely in winter. Freezing temperatures cause air to contract, reducing pressure in your tires and cutting your gas mileage. Check your tire pressure each week from fall through spring.

8. Inspect your tires monthly for uneven wear. Worn tires will reduce your gas mileage. If there is wear, have your alignment checked.

9. Ease off on the gas pedal when going down hills. Let gravity take over and conserve your gas. Downhill driving is a big way to increase your mileage.
