

Two to tango

Barrie continues to foil the best attempts of Halton Hurricanes to take two points from them this season. Saturday afternoon, at Alcott Arena, the visitors tangled with Halton again, skating away with a 6-1 win. (Herald photo by Colin Gibson)

Industrial Curling League

Hog Liners crush Work That Body

With their 10-game winning streak on the line, the Industrial Curling League's leading team, Work That Body Fit-As-A-Fiddle were crushed in an important contest by the third place Hog Liners.

Living up to its billing in this column last week, this proved to be an interesting match-up and a true test of the metal of the front-runners. The Hog Liners had been curling confidently in recent weeks and had already beaten the second place Dunlop Insurance Rockers.

With Ian MacLeod moved into the skip's role, the Hog Liners built up a 5-0 lead after three ends of play before the WTBers were able to get on the scoreboard. The teams exchanged bit point ends in the sixth and seventh, leaving the Hog Liners up by two heading home with the advantage of last shot.

An exasperated WTB foursome could not get enough stones in the house to maneuver into a position to steal the necessary two points for the tie. In fact, with sound strategy the Hog Liners added two more points and coasted to an 11-7 triumph in the lounge.

Only one game this week ended up being a close, down-to-the-wire affair. In it, Kendale Eight Enders squeaked by The Automatons by a single point in spite of winning the majority of ends.

The Steve Foster crew could not eliminate either of the two counters placed by the Eight Enders' front end in the eighth. Hence, a 6-5 Automaton lead heading into the final end of play became a 7-6 Eight Ender victory.

Among other contests, the unexpected occurred in the match-up between La Guys and Bill Smith Auto Wingnuts. Brad Smith captained his squad to their second consecutive win, a 9-6 final that was even at 5-5 and closely played over the first five ends.

Back-to-back victories have been hard to come by for the Smith rink this season. The return of Ralph Vincent to the Smith line-up was reasoned in post-game interviewing as being the basis of the Wingnuts' good fortune.

The balance of the Jan. 17 slate were largely one-sided games. Dunlop Insurance Rockers scooped The Sign Shoppe Sliders by 11-1. JAWS manhandled The Norval Boys by 11-2. The Senators walked over Kendale Hackers 13-2. Lopers' Swimmers outgunned the Dead Enders 11-4. The Challengers defeated a novice Boxer foursome under the skipping of Naomi Patterson by a handy 10-2 count.

The 24th of January brings the following matchups:

At 6:45 p.m. - Challengers vs. Bill Smith Auto Wingnuts, The Senators vs. Dunlop Insurance Rockers, The Automatons vs. The Norval Boys, Dead Enders vs. Hog Liners.

At 9:00 p.m. - JAWS vs. Kendale Eight Enders, La Guys vs. The Boxers, Work That Body Fit-As-A-Fiddle vs. Lopers' Swimmers, The Sign Shoppe Sliders vs. Kendale Hackers.

Atom House League

Tim Horton's 10th win

In game one of Atom House League action on Jan. 19, Varian beat Team Four 4-3, led by Jesse Ward who opened the scoring on a solo effort.

The game stayed 1-0 until late in the second period, when three goals were scored in less than four minutes, two by Varian (Ward, assisted by Matt McMullen, and Sam Southworth, assisted by Kevin Moore), and one by Team Four's Dirk McKee on a pass from Jason Thompson.

Ward tallied again in the third, to put Varian ahead 4-1. Team Four rallied however, as McKee scored two more, each time assisted by linemates Chris Baker and Thomas Arnold.

In game two, Dave's Service Centre opened strongly, scoring three times in the first period, on goals by Ryan Booth and Brendan Alexa (2). Assists went to Andrew Nelissen (2), Damian Jenkins and Devin Legate.

M.V.P.'s Brian Normore scored the only goal of period two on a power play. He was assisted by Paul Farmer and Jason Waterworth.

Dave's Service Centre sealed the victory with two more goals in the third (Alexa for the hat-trick, assisted by Adam McDonald and Shaun Dunlop from Andrew Smith).

Normore counted again, unassisted, to make the final score 5-2 for Dave's Service Centre. Dave's goalie Mike Kelly had his usual strong game, while Chris Sperduti and Mike McMenemy played well for M.V.P.

Game three saw the powerful Tim Horton's squad gain its 10th regular season victory winning 7-1 over Chateau Restaurant. Chateau scored first on a goal by Chad Gemmill from Darren Mansfield.

Horton's Robin Deeley, usually a defenceman, but taking a turn in goal, shut down Chateau for the rest of the game, making a number of saves.

Horton's Dylan Lee and Josh Malinosky each scored hat-tricks while Freddy Roffel tallied Horton's seventh goal. Andrew Boyce, Lee and Malinosky were credited with assists. Sam Butt and Garth Serjeanston played well for Chateau, as did Peter Finlay and Bryan Foster for Horton's.
