Police seek suspects in vandalism cases

Halton Regional Police suspect one or two groups may be responsible for four break and enters in Georgetown resulting in costly damage but no stolen property.

The first occurrence took place at Stewarttown Public School early Friday evening where unknown culprits smashed a window to gain entry to the school. Once inside, chairs were thrown into two showcase windows and a fire extinguisher was discharged in the halls. Police estimate the damage at $2,000.

Similar destruction took place overnight Friday at Glen Williams Public School Friday when three wire mesh screens, a window pane and window were vandalized causing approximately $500 damage.

The destruction continued Saturday when a business on Glen Road in Georgetown was illegally entered and a clock, fluorescent light bulb and window were smashed, causing $200 damage. The vandals also threw screws, bolts and pennies all over the floor and discharged two fire extinguishers into the room.

Police were able to get a brief description of two males who may have been responsible for the vandalism spree.

One of the suspects is described as white, 18-19 years old, male, approximately 5'11", weighing approximately 150 pounds with brown hair. He was wearing a dark baseball cap, dark grey or blue ski jacket, blue jeans and white running shoes.

The other suspect is described as a heavy built white male, approximately 18 to 19 years old and weighing between 180 and 200 pounds. He also had brown hair, a red baseball cap, dark pants, and a white ski jacket with patches of grey and a red patch across the chest.

The two suspects may also be responsible for damage caused to four GO Trains in Georgetown. Police say keys were used to enter cars and the suspects smashed through glass windows containing fire extinguishers, two of which were removed from each car.

Police are continuing their investigation and ask if anyone has any information about the break-ins to call the Criminal Investigation Bureau of the Halton Regional Police at 878-5511, extension 416.
