Huttonville Lions host seniors' annual beef dinner

By KAY WILSON
Huttonville Lions Club hosted its seventh annual hot roast beef dinner on March 8, 5:45 to 10 p.m. for the senior citizens from both east and west of Huttonville, south of Hwy. 7 and north of Steeles Ave. in both Peel and Halton.

Harold Hobson welcomed the 120 seniors, and explained how their money-making projects of the Spring and Fall Craft and Antique Show, as well as the bingos they oversee weekly in Brampton, enables them to donate $8,000 to Canine Vision in Oakville.

As well, they gave year-end awards to both Huttonville and Pineview Schools. They donate to Big Brothers, Big Sisters, Salvation Army, both the Georgetown and Peel Memorial Hospitals, Camp Dorset for the kidney, dialysis and many others.

Janice Haggstrom, who trains dogs from Canine Vision was there with her Golden Labrador to demonstrate how the dog will stop at curbs, etc. to enable the blind person to gauge the dropstep. It takes a month to train a dog and student. They take the student and dog to downtown Oakville and even Toronto to train. The Lions Club presented Janice with a $6,000 cheque, for Canine Vision and she in turn presented the Lions Club with an Appreciation Plaque for the charity work they do both in and outside the community.

Following the dinner, many fruit baskets, flowers and gifts were given out to lucky winners. Janice Sterritt, a local young woman from R.R. Brampton entertained with numerous vocal numbers.

Following Janice were the "World Famous Clawhammers." A group of six men with several acts and different costumes kept the crowd in stitches. In the last 10 years, they have donated $300,000 to charity. Isabel MacKay, an old Huttonville School teacher for 12 years, thanked the Lions Club on behalf of all the seniors for their great evening, and commended them for the many charities they help and is deeply appreciated now, in these depression times. Thank you Lions.

TAX TALK

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF H&R BLOCK

Q. My net income for 1990 is approximately $60,000. My wife's only income was from family allowance payments in respect of our children. A friend told me that because of my income level, I will have to pay back some of the family allowances I report on my tax return. However since my wife had no income, can she report the family allowance on her return in order to avoid repaying any of the allowance?

A. No. The rules about family allowance reporting are quite rigid. Because you are the higher-income spouse, you must report the family allowance payments on your return. Therefore, you will have to repay a portion of the allowance since your net income exceeds the 1990 threshold amount of $50,850. However, you are still entitled to claim the amounts for dependent children.
