

Hospital aligns with Tidy Car

Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital has entered into a new approach to fund raising in conjunction with a local business.

The firm of Tidy Car has agreed to support the hospital by including a payment to the hospital every time a voucher for services at Tidy Car is purchased. This new approach to fund raising, initiated by the hospital's foundation, allows for joint advertising by a company and the hospital.

The specific offering in the joint advertising/fund raising circular is a voucher valued at $35.00 for Tidy Car, which will purchase services in excess of $130.00 at the service company and, further, every time a $35.00 voucher is purchased, the hospital will receive $7.50, donated by Tidy Car.

The hospital reports the funds being donated by Tidy Car are needed for the purchase of a Life Pak 5 which is used by the emergency department to provide enhanced monitoring of patients with suspected heart problems.

Mr. Bob Clipsham, chairman of the hospital foundation, noted he was very pleased that a firm such as Tidy Car would come forward with such an attractive offer for the hospital.

The hospital is committed to providing quality care to the people of Halton Hills and this requires, in part, new equipment and replacement of existing equipment. Donations such as this made by Tidy Car are of great assistance in acquiring this equipment.

Anyone interested in obtaining a voucher can find them at the Georgetown Hospital.

Bierdo Brothers entertain

This group of Georgetown youngsters were doing the 'Peewee Herman' dance to the music of the Bierdo Brothers, a comedy musical pair who gave a show at Georgetown Public Library Thursday. The Bierdo brothers are Glen Soulis and Sandy

McDonald of Kitchener-Waterloo and they travel across Canada with their show. The two also performed at the Acton Public Library earlier in the day. (Herald photo)

Credit card costs must be understood

Federal Consumer and Corporate Affairs Minister Pierre Blais has released the March 1991 issue of "Credit Card Costs." This publication, issued quarterly, provides timely, comparative information about interest rates and other costs related to the use of credit cards.

Credit cards are used for more than 546 million transactions in Canada each year. The number of cards in circulation in Canada, a country of only 19.5 million adults, reached an estimated 51 million in 1990. The number of merchant outlets accepting VISA and MasterCard had doubled since 1980.

"It is important to read the monthly statements carefully," warned Mr. Blais. "If possible, pay off the full balance within the grace period."

He encouraged consumers to be aware of the cost of credit cards as compared with other forms of credit, such as lines of credit and personal loans, and to make sure that they understand the terms of the cards they use.

"While your credit card is a convenient payment method, you must understand the costs associated with using it," said Mr. Blais.

Sincere sympathy extended

By KAY WILSON

Sincere sympathy is extended to Anne and Dick Feikema, R.R.1, Norval, on the passing of Anne's mother, Mrs. Clara Tenhoeve, who passed away Jan. 13, 1991 at Cornwall Hospital.

Dearly beloved wife of Wayne Tenhoeve, dear mother of Barbara and Jack Agnes of Acton, Anne and Dick Feikema, Jack and Laurie Tenhoeve, Cornwall, and Elsie and Paul Miller, Three Hills, Alberta. Ten grandchildren also survive.

Predeceased by two sons, Gary and John.

Clara Piek was born in Grouw, Friesland, The Netherlands, on June 16, 1917, and along with her husband and family, emigrated to Canada in 1949. They lived in both the Trenton and Tillsonburg area, before settling in Brampton for the last 30 years.

Mrs. Tenhoeve enjoyed good health until the fatal heart attack, while visiting her son in Cornwall Hospital, also with a heart condition.

Funeral service was held at the Ward Funeral Home, Brampton, on January 17, conducted by Pastor Peter Van Egmond. Interment was in Meadowvale Cemetery, Brampton.

Pallbearers included: Pierre Agnes, Emmanuel Agnes, David Tenhoeve, Ron Feikema, Ron Maizis and Ron Roos.
