

Hospital happenings

Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital officially opened its new Health Service Library Thursday in memory of well known local residents Peter and John T. Armstrong. On hand to unveil the dedication plaque were John Armstrong's sons (right to left) Paul and Mike Armstrong. Sue Crawford, the hospital's Director of Medical Records (far left) will operate the library on a day-to-day basis. Following the opening, the hospital's Board of Directors held a meeting during which the hospital's Auxillary donated $25,000 to the hospital. As well, hospital Executive Director John Oliver introduced the hospital's new Chief of Staff, Dr. D. Trant, and informed the board the province had given the hospital $900,000 to repair windows and the ventilator system. (Herald photo)

Georgetown artist Shirley Deaville donated a painting to Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital Thursday, entitled Annual Check-up, as a way of saying thank you to the hospital for saving her life two years ago. Hospital Board of Directors Chairman Graeme Goebelle accepted the painting on the hospital's behalf. (Herald photo)
