

Kinsmen TV. Auction A Huge Success

(Top) Kinsmen Bruce Leonard (left) and Kinsmen Robert Young were busy updating the bids which appeared on the TV screen during the Auction. (Below) Lynn Sarachman Program Co-ordinator for (a.e.) put Jodi Stanfields (back) and Andrea Webb (centre) through the paces in the control room during the five hour T.V. Auction. Both young ladies are Co-op students from Georgetown District High School and volunteered for the evening of fun and entertainment.

The seventh annual Kinsmen T.V. Auction went off Monday evening on Halton Cable TV without a hitch. All those who tuned in to the show not only saw an evening of fun but bagged a few bargains as well. The Kinsmen Club of Georgetown raised over $6,000.00 during the five hour show and managed to give away to several local groups all the money that was raised. This year a Toyota Corolla was the featured item that went for $15,000.00 to Andrea McGyver of Raylawn Cres. Georgetown. The Kinsmen Club added a little light humor to the show and took you on a back stage tour of the T.V. Auction with a home made video starring none other than the over 30 volunteers who put on the evening's show. At closing time the club thanked all the participants and told them to tune in same time, same channel next year.

During the Special Presentation portion of the Kinsmen TV Auction, The Kinsmen Club of Georgetown managed to give away almost all of the over $6,000.00 raised from the auction to several local groups. Left to right Bob Kitchen from the Georgetown Baseball Association Tyke Division received a cheque for $1,000.00 the final instalment for the Batting Cage. Kin President Ron Lefebvre is presenting Peter Gringberg with three cases of Similac for Love and Christ Food Bank and Lawson Oates from Open Door receives a cheque from Kinsmen Bruce Leonard for $1,000.00. (Herald photo)
