

Community in Focus

Purple Cross month

Members of the Halton Hills Elks Lodge and Town Mayor Russ Miller (centre) gathered at the Town Civic Centre Monday for a flag raising ceremony in honor of May being recognized as Purple Cross Month. The club runs a major fundraising drive during this month to raise money for charities and children in distress. Club members pictured above include Jim Taylor (far left) and Christine Taylor (far right). (Herald photo)

It's cool

Georgetown resident John Nichols, lamp shade in hand and another on head, obviously decided to bring a little humor to the St. John's United Church, Georgetown yard sale last Saturday at the church on Guelph Street. (Herald photo)

Beavers Chomperee

The Annual North Halton District CHOMPREEE was held last Saturday at the Acton Scout Hall. Ninety-six Beavers attended from Georgetown, Glen Williams, Limehouse and Acton. Twenty-one

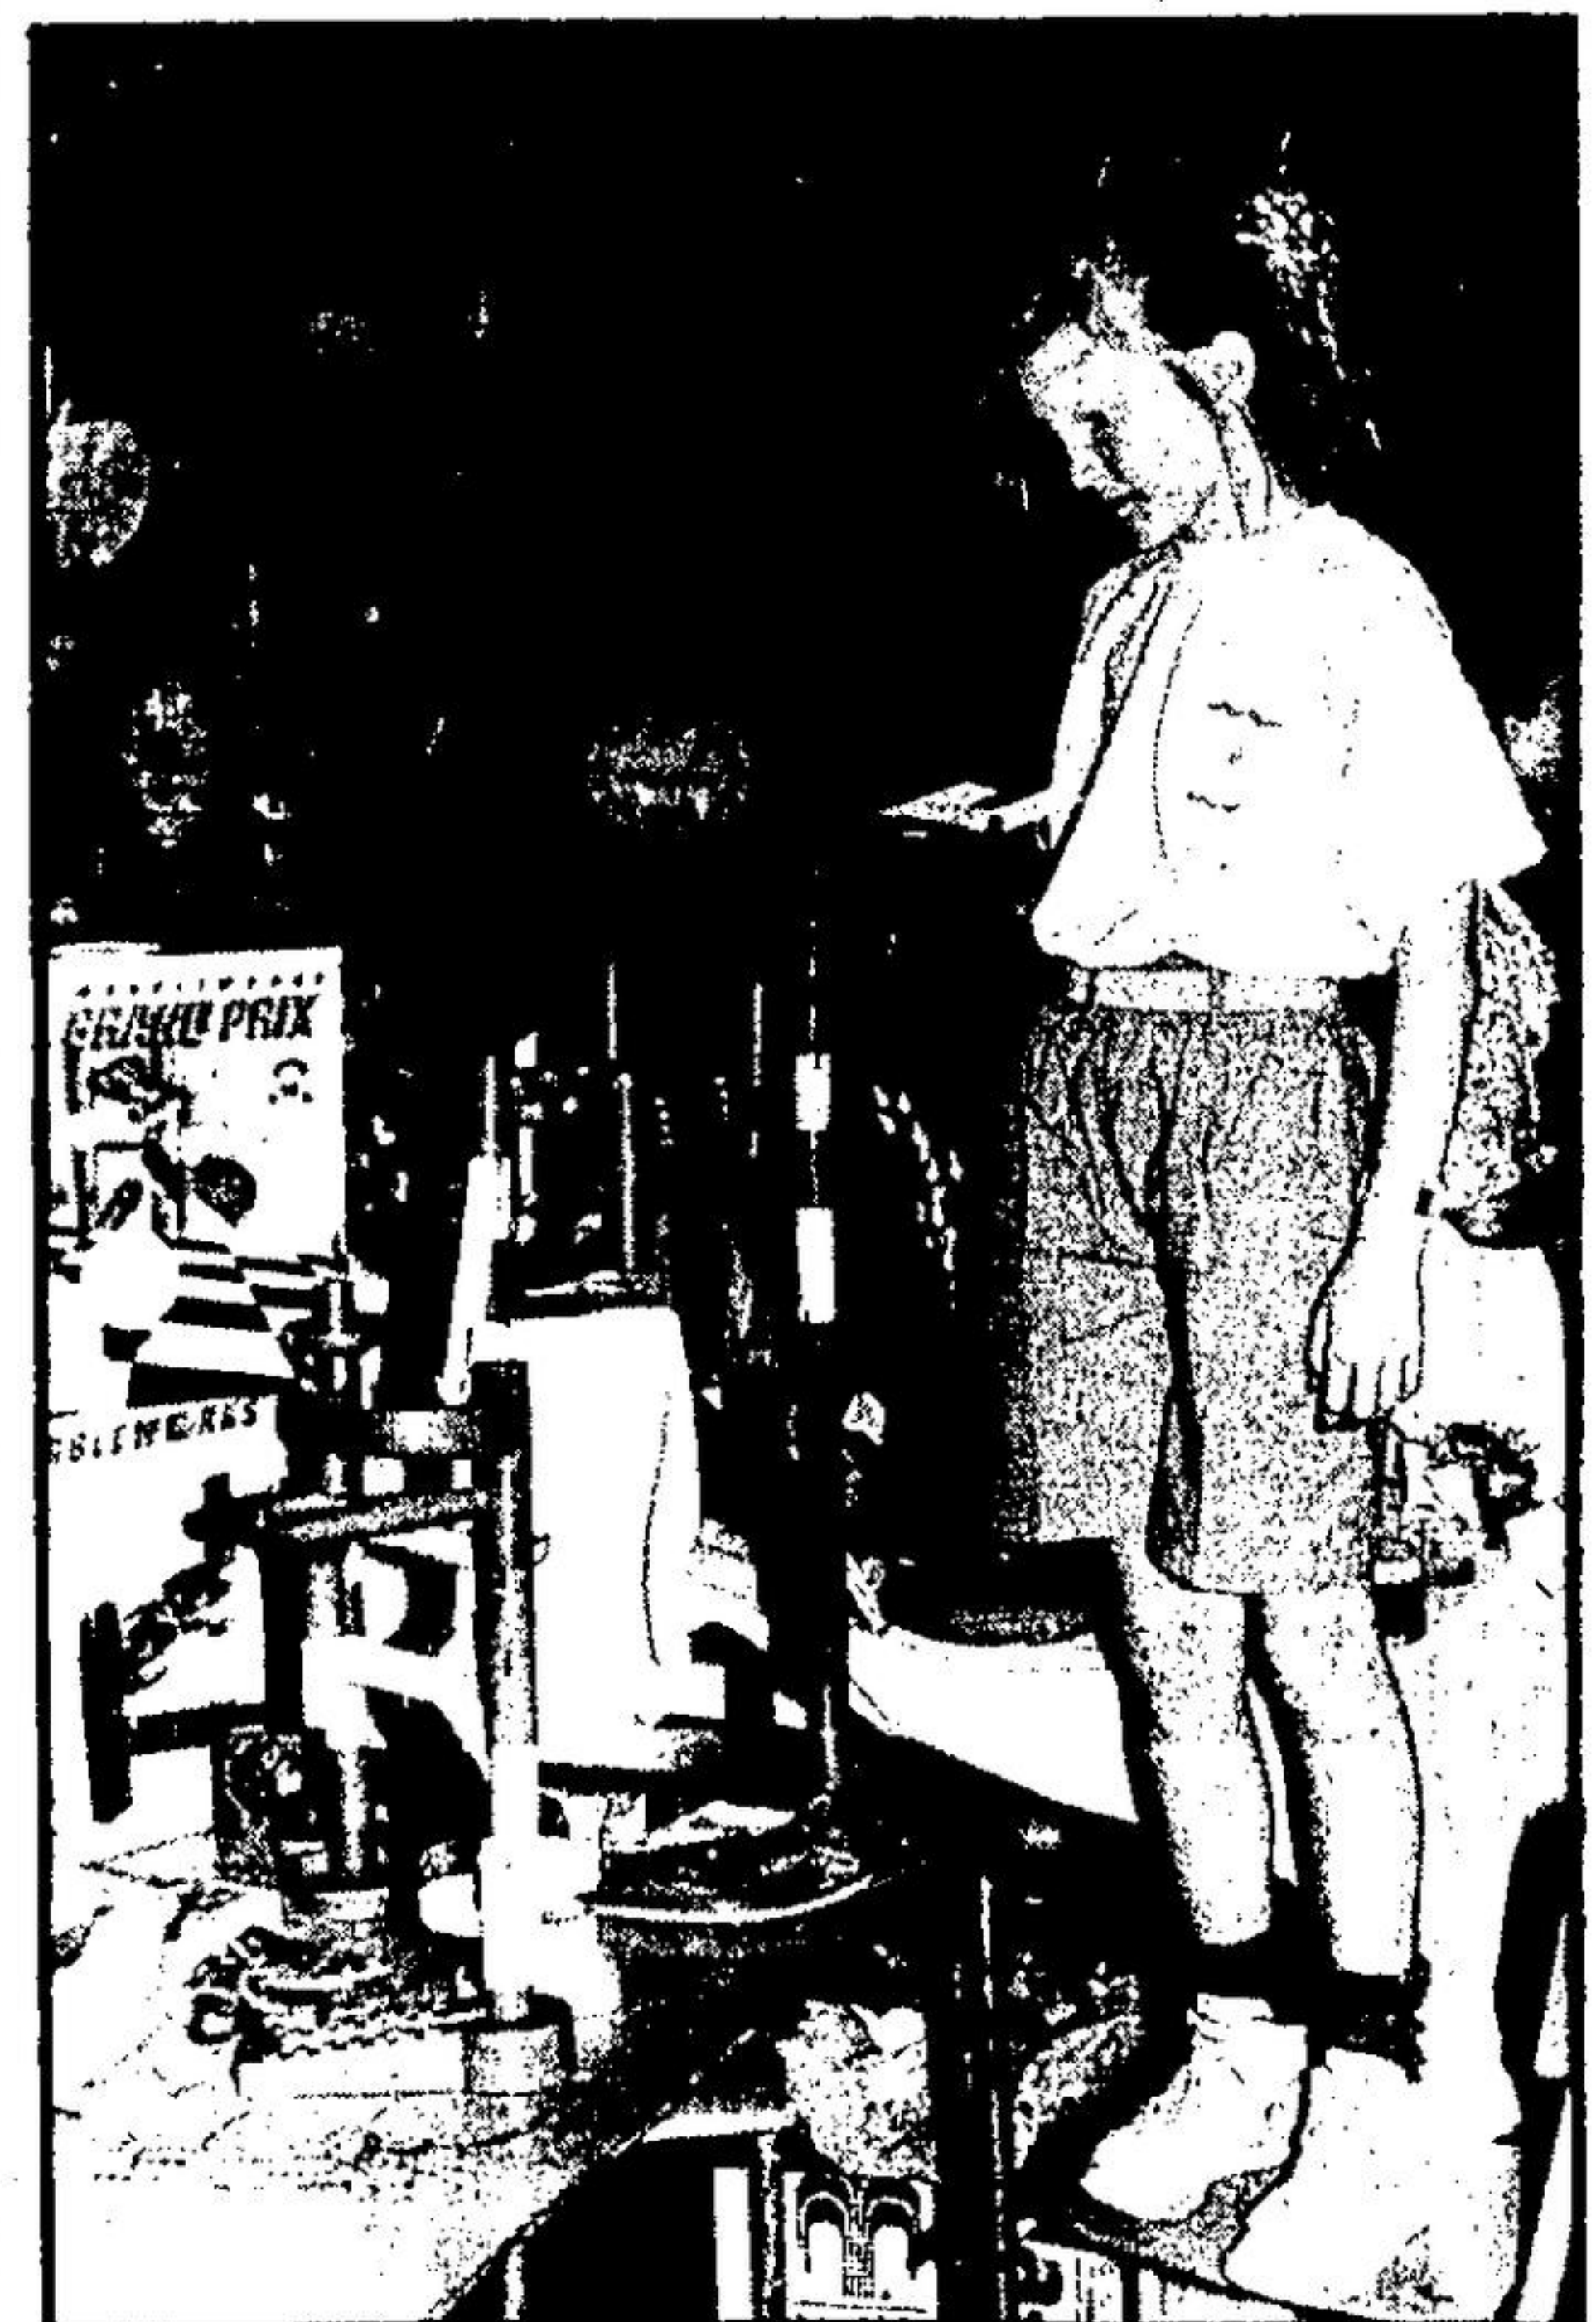

Beaver Leaders, along with a number of parents who helped out, made sure all those in attendance had a great time. (Photo by Jean Lavman)

Women's League Executive

Georgetown Holy Cross Church 1919/93 Catholic Women's League Executive was named during Sunday's Service at the church. The executive includes (left to right) (back row) Lucie Rens, Margaret McDyre, Georgette Milliere, Gerda Kirchmayr,

Sienna Van Hoekelen and Joan Gaffey. (Left to right) (front row) Trudy Klein, Mary Tucker, Margaret Wilcox, Sylvia Glaude and Jeanne Chandler. Absent Mary Huges. (Herald photo)

Marvelous Marbles

Guelph resident Janine Rembley, 10, was one of several children and mothers partaking in the Acton-Parent/Child Resource Centre's Fifth Annual Mother's Day Bazaar last Saturday. Janine is playing with a marble works set, one of several toys sold by Acton-based Education Consultant Wendy Williams. (Herald photo)