

Annual Bang-O-Rama hits the heights

Talking to the animals

Petting Zoo keeper, Chris Gordon was kept busy filling youngsters hands with small animals or lifting the sheep and goats up for the kids, including Becky and Kyle Findley of Georgetown, to pet at the Optimist Bang-O-Rama petting zoo. (Herald photo)

A narrow escape

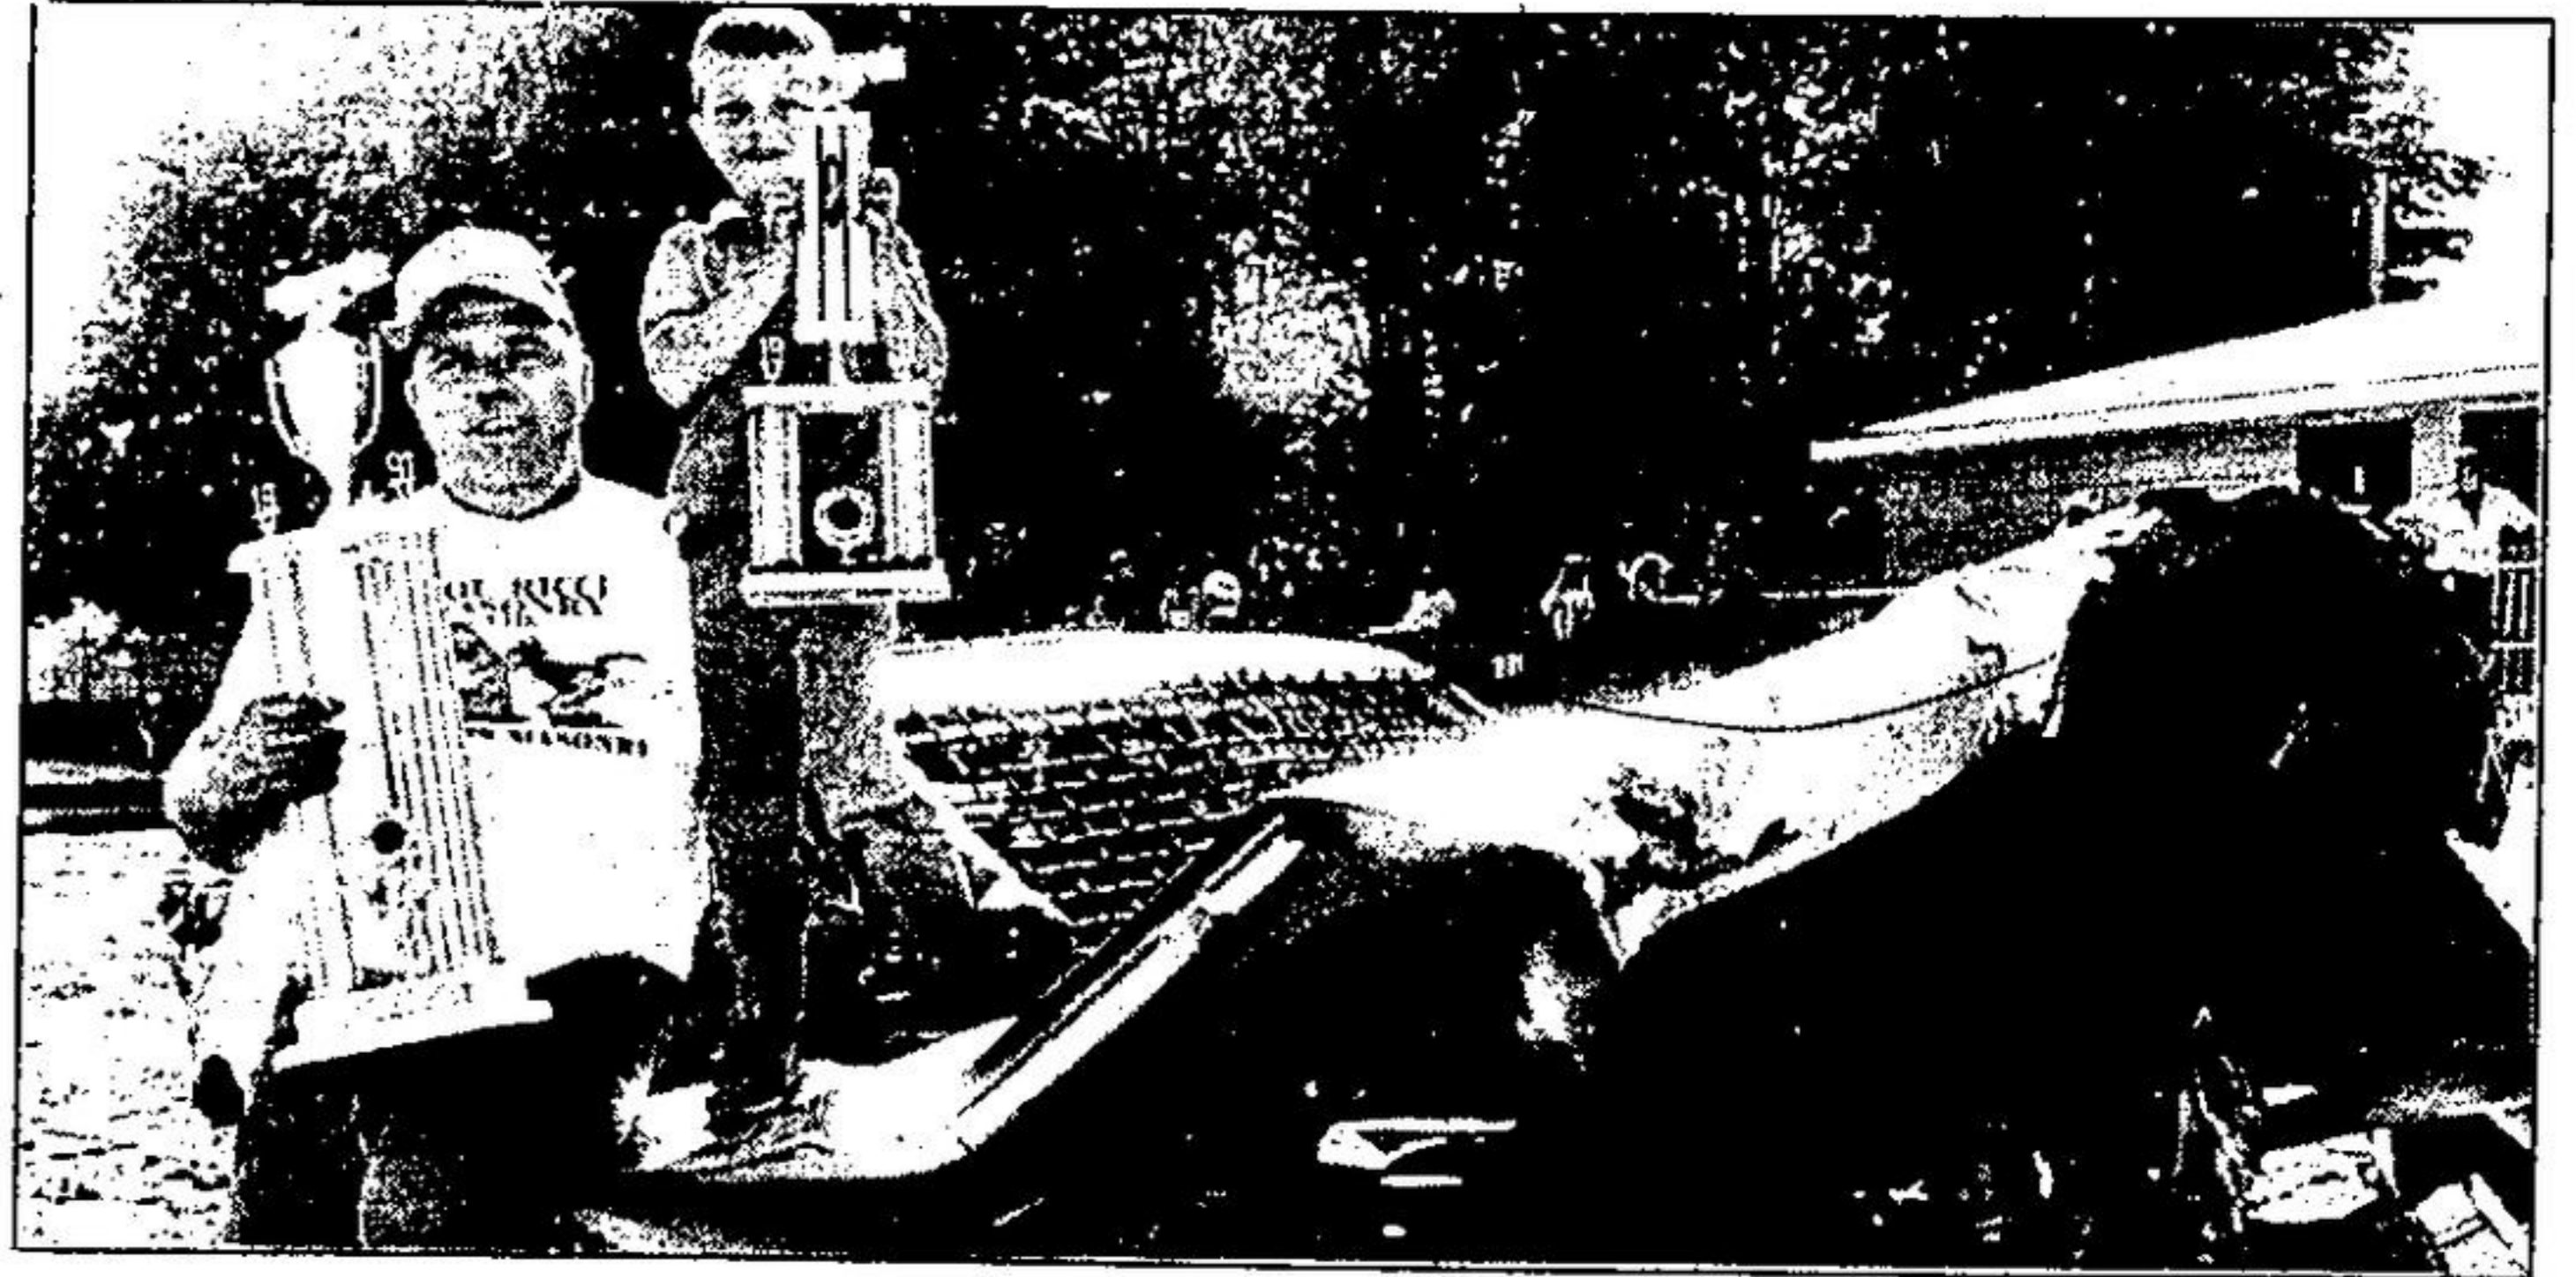

Crawling out from his car wreck at the Demolition Derby held Sunday at Bang-O-Rama is Brampton driver Lawn Meers who won the second heat in the derby and got his car operating again for the final where he won the runner-up position and took home $100. (Herald photo)

Gymnastic dog

Violetta Hessing of the 'Good Sports R Us' dog training school in Georgetown runs this adorable Schipperke through his stunts before their show at Bang-O-Rama Monday. (Herald photo)

Demolition Derby winner

Car number 99 was smoking, back-firing, smashed up and leading but Georgetown driver Gary Hyde never stopped ramming into other cars and ended up winning the $350 first prize in the Bang-O-

Rama demolition derby Sunday afternoon. Holding his trophy with his buddy, son David, is a victorious Mr. Hyde on the track before his car was towed away. (Herald photo)

Herald photos by Lisa Boonstoppel-Pot

No problem

Screams of terror were the sounds commonly heard from this spinning ride, but sisters Robin Ransom (left) and Leslie just giggled as the buckets swung, swooped and sliced through the air at the Optimist Club-sponsored Bang-O-Rama midway. (Herald photo)

Spectacular show

Hundreds of spectators dotted the lawn at the Georgetown Fairgrounds to witness the spectacular fireworks show Georgetown Optimists put on Monday night at dusk, to top off the weekend Bang-O-

Rama festivities. Optimists say its the biggest firework display they've presented in 15 years. (Herald photo by Lisa Boonstoppel-Pot)