Fashion Show for charity

Energy conscious

Acton's Robert Little Public School Grade 5 student Nathan Irving (centre) knows there is only one environmentally friendly way to light up a room. That's with energy saving bulbs. During the school's "Little Inspires Fondness for the En-

Political play

Halton Hills Councillor Rob Heaton makes a catch during a softball game against staff from the City of Brampton at Norval Park on Wednesday. The game

served as a kick-off for the Participaction Challenge between the two communities, which is this Wednesday. (Herald photo)

nifer Rosser, Erin Smith, Charlotte Strathdee and Kim Vagg, of the 5th Guide Company, moved up to Pathfinders. Absent when photo taken, was Guide Andrea Brennan, who also moved up to Pathfinders. (Herald photo)
