

Community in Focus

Newman Exhibition

Halton Hills Herald Columnist John Sommer, representing 'The Friends of the Halton Hills Libraries' chats with Walter Blehn, former owner and publisher of the Herald and Rosemary Campbell, step-daughter of Harold J. Newman. The three were on hand Wednesday night at the Gallery in the Halton Hills Cultural Centre in Georgetown to open the exhibition "Paintings from Six Decades" a collection of paintings done by Mr. Newman who formerly resided in Ballinacree. He now lives in Toronto with his wife and step-daughter and will celebrate his 92nd birthday this month. The show will run until July 6. (Herald photo)

Lunch break

Sitting in the cool shade and finishing their lunch was enough to put a smile on the faces of Amanda De-ath (left) and her friend Katrina Walper (right) at the Halton Hills Toy Lending Library annual year-end picnic at Cedarvale Park in Georgetown Wednesday afternoon. The Library has 125 members and has a selection of over 500 toys which local children can borrow. (Herald photo by Lisa Boonstoppel-Pot)

Smooth dudes

The simple acoustic sounds and smooth vocals of Dave Haffey (left) and Mike Wallinga (right) hushed the crowd of Georgetown District High School students watching the duo. But when the music stopped, the crowd screamed for more from the duo who were part of a talent show staged at the school, May 30, by Dave McCallum, Stephen Lumber and Jeanette Westman for their independent study course. (Herald photo by Lisa Boonstoppel-Pot)

Parent volunteer honored

Pineview Public School honored its parent volunteers Wednesday night and presented Marylynne Rafka of Hornby with a hanging pot of Impatiens for their 13 years of service in the school's library. After accepting the gift from the school principal Gary Baleman, Mrs. Rafka said she loves books and finds working in the library a wonderful break from her homemaking duties. (Herald photo)

Lioness Club executive

The Georgetown Lioness Club has elected its 1991/92 executive with Norma Firth taking on the position of President. Pictured above, front row, left to right; Debbie Ezekiel (2nd Vice President), Norma Firth (President), Joyce Tilson (1st Vice President) and Mary Tennant (3rd Vice President). Back

row, left to right; Louise Giffen (Secretary), Madelaine Collier (Director), Vina Shannon (Director), Billie Idzi (Fanny Flapper), Gayle Laroche (Past President), Betty Hawes (Treasurer), and Lil Chapman (Lioness Tamer). (Herald photo)

Memorable trip

Before leaving Blue Springs Scout Camp in Acton, Grade 4 students, Ronald Dillabough (left) and Matt Walker (right) from Glen Williams Public School were supplied with t-shirts and paint to paint visual reminders of their trip. The class trip, May 30, was an excursion designed to broaden student's awareness and knowledge of the environment. (Herald photo by Lisa Boonstoppel-Pot)