

Herald dunking booth

So you think you can hurl for the Blue Jays, eh? You're faster than a speeding Henke fastball; have more control than a Jimmy Key off-speed pitch?

Well, the Halton Hills Herald will give you the opportunity to test the strength, and accuracy of your arm during the Pioneer Days celebration in downtown Georgetown starting tomorrow (Thursday) and running through Saturday.

On Saturday, the Herald will have a dunking booth set up at the corner of Main and Mill Streets, by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce building.

The dunking booth will be operating from noon until 3 p.m. and Town Councillor Rob Heaton, as well as Halton North MPP Noel Duignan will be perched inside hoping to avoid a dunking in the dark waters below.

Insiders report that mystery guests will also be taking their turn on the perch in the dunking booth, so even if you don't fancy yourself as a prospective Blue Jay pitcher, you at least have the opportunity of bringing some local celebrities down to earth ... er, water that is.

The price for the opportunity of knocking someone off their perch is 25 cents per ball, or five balls for $1.00.

All proceeds raised by the Halton Hills Herald dunking booth will be donated to Cystic Fibrosis.

Come out and have a ball ... or two, or three, or even five.

Special Pioneer Days attractions

The "Good Olde Days" are here again. Downtown Georgetown's Main Street will be closed to traffic from June 13th to 15th as traders move out onto the street for another Pioneer Days organized by the retailers and local groups.

All three days feature sidewalk sales with numerous specials and in the evenings there will be street dancing to a live band.

Each day will have a different theme:

Thursday, June 13 is Seniors' Day; Friday is Family Day; and Saturday is Children's Day.

On the Thursday, attractions include free coffee and muffins for seniors, helpful "General Wellness" presentations, antique cars and on the fun side, square dancing, bingo and a Pioneer Citizen Award.

Mayor Russ Miller will officially open Pioneer Days at 7 p.m. on the Thursday.

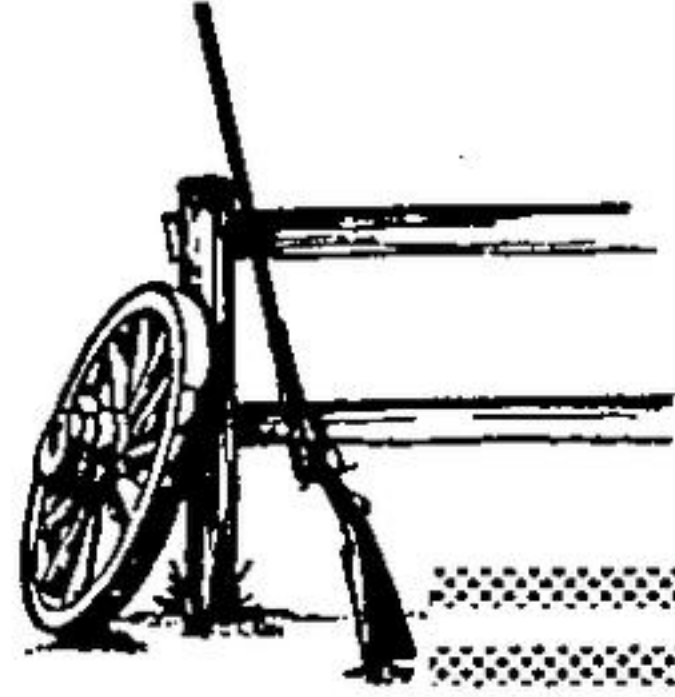

On Friday, June 14 - Family Day - new events this year include several midway-style sideshows and the Happy Soles Live Dancers.

Back once more will be a face painter and a long-time favorite entertainer, Dr. Bondoli.

For the youngest on Saturday (Children's Day) there will be free refreshments. An ultra-light plane display will be mounted in the main car park, and you can start your day at the Lions Club open-air breakfast.

At 11:30 a.m. the annual parade, complete with bands, will have as one theme, a salute to Canada's armed forces. Dr. Bondoli and face painter will be back, as will the midway and sideshows.

Other features include a petting zoo, pony rides and a trick bicycle demonstration.
