Tyke rep team playing .500 ball in June

Georgetown O'Toole's Tyke rep team split four of the games it played recently, two of them regular season matches and the others at the Flesherton tournament.

Every good ball team has to take a loss occasionally and this was the case for O'Toole's on June 1. Clarkson defeated Georgetown 7-3. Two runs from the bat of Issac Ferguson and a single from Brent McClung was not enough to keep O'Toole's winning streak alive.

Georgetown was not daunted by their loss to Clarkson. They faced a strong Burlington club on June 4, beating them by two runs. Down 2-0 in the fourth, Georgetown took the lead 5-2, thanks to a solid double from Mark Fedchyshyn. O'Toole's were able to hold Burlington in the fifth with a key double play from shortstop Greg McCullough.

In the top of the seventh inning, Burlington came back to tie the game. With curfew approaching, O'Toole's needed a run to win or they would have to settle for a tie. Leading off the scoring was Greg McCullough stealing home, followed by Brent McClung. Final score was 7-5 for Georgetown. The winning pitcher was Geoff Bahr with the save going to Brent McClung. On June 8, O'Toole's travelled to Flesherton for their Mosquito Invitational Tournament. In the first game, Georgetown met Bolton for what proved to be an exciting ball game.

After two innings of play, Georgetown took a 5-3 lead with a triple going to Trevor Rich and runs batted in by Sean Hardcastle and Brent McClung. With pitcher Devon Fraser facing only three batters, Georgetown finished off the inning by scoring another seven runs. RBI's went to Geoff Bahr, Trevor Rich, Robert McLeod, Mark Fedchyshyn, Andrew Nelissen and Devon Fraser.

In the fourth inning Fraser again faced three batters. With hits and runs scored by Rich and Hardcastle, O'Toole's took a 10 run lead. Bolton made a valiant effort to come back in the fifth but to no avail, after five, Georgetown won by a mercy rule 13-3.

In the second game, Georgetown was in need of a win in order to advance to the finals. O'Toole's faced Port Elgin who had won their first game by a score of 13-6.

Port Elgin started off the scoring early with two well placed hits down each base line, getting four runs in the first. In the second, Port Elgin scored again, taking a 5-0 lead. The second inning saw a rally from the Georgetown boys coming back with three runs. Trevor Rich had a double, with scoring coming from Rich, Smith and McCullough and RBI's going to McClung and Fedchyshyn.

Port Elgin finished off both the fourth and the fifth innings by scoring two runs in each. Final score was 9-3 for Port Elgin with eight strike outs going to Geoff Bahr.

New competition for Jr. B Raiders

The Central Ontario Jr. B Hockey League is expanding in the 1991-92 season, adding two teams to its ranks. The two new teams, Royal York Rangers and Ajax Axemen are joining the East Division, which Georgetown Raiders play in. Peterborough Petes, which finished in last place this past season, have moved over to the West Division.

Rangers are a newly created team, while Axemen have moved up from the Jr. C level. As a result of the changes, the league decided to allow only the top six teams (out of eight) in each division to the playoffs at the end of the regular season.

According to Raiders President Finn Poustrup, in years of expansion, all teams would be permitted to enter post season play. He added that the changes bode well for the health of the league, likely making it one of the most competitive in the province.

HERALD SPORTS SHORTS

Rep T-ball

The Elliott Custom Brokers T-ball rep team have been busy playing ball. At the Burlington tournament on June 1-2, they lost to Ajax 32-20, Streetsville 23-10 and Hamilton 23-22.

Streetsville were surprised to play a stronger team when they tackled Georgetown on June 4. Although Streetsville won by a score of 27-18 the Georgetown boys were no pushover.

In Burlington on June 6, Georgetown took an early lead. The teams battled back and forth during an exciting game. In the last second Burlington whacked a homer and won by one run, 25-24. Kevin Binsell tore around the bases while Jeff Martin caught a super fly.

The Streetsville tournament on June 8-9 was great fun. Although the fans wilted in the heat, the team played great ball. Helping out were Chris Cormillas and Ryan Humberstone. Tyrell Crews and Andrew Oesch were smashing hits, but it wasn't enough to win the games. The scores for the three games were Streetsville 19-7, Clarkson 26-6 and Erin Mills 24-9.

Sucker play

The Ontario Provincial Police will be rewarding children for wearing their life-jackets while boating in the province between June 29 and September 2.

Started by Lion's Head detachment, members patroling parts of Georgian Bay and Lake Huron, the "Don't Be A Sucker - Wear Your Lifejacket" program now involves a candy sucker being given to all children wearing lifejackets on boats stopped by the police in Ontario.

An orange bookmark, given with the sucker, bears a safety message and the names of the partners in the safety campaign. The small gift is to cause children, who may one day be boaters themselves, to consider the importance of wearing life-jackets. The OPP has assigned 150 officers to summertime patrol throughout the province on 110 boats.

Girls soccer

Georgetown Challengers Girls under 18 Bantam soccer team played in Milton versus Terry Rowley Mechanics, on June 5, coming away with a 1-0 win.

After kicking it through the goalie's legs Tracy also shared the goaltending shutout with Erica Booth. Dianne Manning and Maurien Turner were great defensively. Terry Hunter played determined soccer at midfield.
