CORK 'N BEANS

BY JACK KENNEDY

Canadarn!

Statistics Canada is now busy assembling the data from this year's census. They've already come to certain conclusions: One: The smoke from the neighbour's barbecue will always waft into your yard when you're just having leftovers. Two: Halfway through an extended car trip children will have forgotten to go before they left. And three: If you blink, you will miss the resignation of another Ontario cabinet minister.
