Church congregation given special treat

By BETTY SOJKA

This past Sunday, the village church congregation had a special treat. After weeks of practices, the Junior Choir presented a musical. Under the direction of choir director Pat Kerr, a cast of about 18 put on the "Annual Polk Picnic." This is a lovely story of a modern day prodigal son. The congregation of St. Andrew's Church in Georgetown was delighted when the group arrived for their 9:45 a.m. service. The Junior Choir overwhelmed both audiences, with the beauty of their blended voices. The annual church picnic is scheduled for this coming Sunday, June 23rd.

The Hall Board held a "think tank" meeting last week. A number of individuals who had been involved with the community centre over the years attended. The purpose of the meeting was twofold. First the group established all previous work done in the hall, as well as the location of all pertinent wiring and piping etc. From here a step by step plan was developed, that included alternatives along with way to having the basement watertight.

The Jim Dandies have set an all-time record by winning every game since the beginning of the season. The ladies continued this 7 game winning streak, by winning an additional 4 games when they participated in the Georgetown tournament on the weekend. From the very first, it was the pitchers Marion Lumbers and Sandra Prowse who controlled the outcome of each game. Batters were left standing, having trouble with the lightning speed of the pitches. Strike after strike was thrown. The team played one game on Friday night, followed by 3 more in Saturday's blistering heat. Joining them was old teammate Maureen Tugnet. Maureen travelled all the way from Smith Falls, which is where she now calls home. The championship game was cancelled due to thunderstorms. Instead of rescheduling the game, the Jim Dandies split the purse with the other contending team. During the tournament "most valuable players" were chosen by the opposing team at each games end. Players chosen were Sandra Prowse, Kathy Martin, and Maureen Tugnet who clinched the award twice. Exceptional pitching and great reflexes in defensive play earned MVP for Sandra Prowse. Kathy Martin was noted for hitting the ball so far a field, that fielders had to scramble to get it. A leg injury held her to triples, when home runs were clearly indicated. Maureen Tugnet also was a powerful hitter, and was extra ordinary in playing right field. While in mid right field she catapulted a throw to 3rd base narrowly missing an out from an advancing runner.

Winning arrangement

Randall Brandford of Georgetown does a little touching up to the flower arrangement that won him the Mrs. S.G. Bennett plaque for best floral arrangement. Hundreds of floral arrangements, bouquets and single flowers were on display as part of Georgetown Horticultural Societies flower show in the basement of Knox Presbyterian Church in Georgetown Saturday. Sea Cadet lottery

While local residents weren't the big winners in the 1991 annual Air Cadet League of Canada Lottery, three individuals from Georgetown and Acton did walk away with their share of this year's winnings.

Taking home a prize of $50 each were Ms. B. Daquano and Ms. M. Thomson from Georgetown and Ms. K. James from Acton.

Grand prize winners for the lottery were: 1st Place - Mr. R. Wheeler of Meaford, Ont. who drove home in a 1991 GM Corsica, 2nd Place - Mr. R. Kierstead of Richmond Hill who won a 1991 Isuzu Optima, and 3rd Place - Ms. Casey Dendile from Oshawa, Ont. who won a 1991 GM Sprint.

This year's lottery was held in early May.
