

Scott Paper raising funds for swans

Scott Paper Limited has announced a new program to raise funds to help save the Trumpeter Swan in Eastern Canada. Scott Paper is guaranteeing a minimum $50,000 donation and is appealing to consumers to join their efforts to raise monies for a specially created fund to help restore free-flying Trumpeters to Eastern Canada.

In 1932, it was estimated that there were only 70 of these magnificent birds in existence in North America. Although the species has grown in recent decades, there are still only about 1,200 birds in Canada and virtually all of them are in the Western provinces, Yukon and Northwest Territories.

The Trumpeter still has a long way to go to regain its historical abundance. The 'Save the Trumpeter Swan Fund' has been established to assist the efforts of the many concerned individuals and organizations which are dedicated to re-establishing the swans in Eastern Canada.

Scott Paper's promotion focuses on the full brand line of White Swan paper products and included matching coupon donation and a consumer premium of two plush toy swans. Consumers are being asked to phone toll-free to 1-800-667-SWAN for more information on how to Help Save the Trumpeter Swan.
