> > JULY STH

Jim and Pol Akers Countrywide Tigers 2 Blake Leavitt Expos 15 Expos pitchers Simon Ford, Joel Springer and Adam Stoyles gave up only three runs to the short-staffed Tigers. Springer nabbed a fly ball hit to the mound and Ed Alcorn's relay to Jesse Viens at first discounted another potential Tigers run.

Aircrn (one RBI), Stoyles and Viens (three RBIs) also counted for hits along with Rob May, Matt Sykes (one RBI), Matt Walker and Dan Whitton. When Expos' hats slumped temporarily, May stole two bases to push his hit onto the scoreboard Mike Reed D.J. Apgels 5

Beaver Lumber Mets 6 Mike Corlett's double and a Jason Hayes home run kept Mels in contention during the early frames against a determined Angels team. Hayes picked off a bases-loaded pop-fly to stall Angels' advance and close out the inning. In the bottom of the final, Derek Lanthier connected for the game-winning HBI, pushing Mets over Angels 6-5.

George and Dragon Yankees 11 J.V. Clothing Blue Jays 13 Yankees' Daniel Hardstaff opened up on Jays with a top-ofthe-order home run in the first inning. Additional hits by Trevor Cash, Roddy Heinz, and Adam Scuralli pushed Yankees to eleven runs, backed by defensive play by Jon Borg and a Jason Estevan-Gerrard Purcell double Jays' Adam McDonald gained an out on a fly ball, but Yanks' scoring pressure forced Jays to rely on the batters. Topher Baker, Alan Gilmour, Dylan Lee, McDonald and Shawn Pearce all turned in hits. David Zeni drove in the tying run, setting up the critical moment for Justin Hunt's homer which clinched the win for

JULY HITH Mike Reed D.J. Angels () Halton Credit Union A's || Both Angels and A's came looking for their first win in the second half of the season. A's took over $-1 in the first inning. Ryan Gledhill's double opened the second, and by the end of the third A's had stretched the lead to 11-4 on RBI's by Warren Anderson and Mike Madill.

Meanwhile, A's foiled Angels scoring opportunities with Jason Higgins and Nick Johnston bringing down five files, Gledhill's key throw to first, and an out at the plate courtesy of Jamle Larocque.

in the fourth, the tables turned. Jess McIntyre got Angela' ball rolling with a home run which brought in Chad Mierama. For the rest of the evening Angels held A's to three-up-three-down baseball while tying up the score in the fifth. In the sixth and final inning Brendan Alexa got as far as second but Angels could not bring him in and had to settle for a
