By LINDA ANDERSON
Herald Special

JULY 10TH
Green Monsters 17
Bishop's Queen's 8

Monsters were on home turf, while Queens got stuck in the mud. Virginia Walker hit a home run, scoring two RBI's. She also crossed the mud to the plate three times. Linda Anderson hit a triple and went four for three and Cathy Seaton hit a double.

Queens got the worst of the mud but Jennifer Skinner managed to scoop a few balls. Patti Poo did a good roll in the mud and also scored a run. Andrea Ford was good behind the plate.

Orange Peelers 7
Thunder Buns 2

This game was a real pitcher's duel, but timely hitting on Peelers part gave them a hard fought victory. Monica Mastalerz, Linda McClure, Diane Moore and Bonnie Penny all hit doubles.

For the Buns, Judy Faulhafer hit a double. The team would like to say goodbye and good luck to Vicky Cuning and goodbye to Peggy Gouley who was injured and had to quit.

Infield Flies 8, Tony's Tarts 3
Flies devoured those Tarts with Janet Ransom and Cindy Kavanagh both pitching an excellent game. Carolyn Gingras had a triple, Pat Akers had a double along with Brenda Cole who also went three for three at bat. Sue McDonald was super at fielding. For the Tarts, Laura Raine hit a double and Mary McLaughlin went three for three and stole four bases.

JULY 12TH

Green Monsters 12, Outlaws 12
A battle right to the end but a truce was called for the tie. For Monsters, Chris Netten hit a home run and had four RBI's. Jennifer Reynolds hit a home run and had two RBI's. Lisa Johnston, Colleen McGuire, Virginia Walker and Linda Donais all had their share of RBI's.

Outlaws played well with Betty Fendley pitching a good game and Pat Herrington and Diane Richardson making some good catches along with Linda Chadwick missing nothing behind the plate.

Champagne on Ice 5,
La Bats Blue 4

Champagne broke the seal of approval as their coach beamed with pride. Both pitcher Paulette Friolet and Fay Brantford pitched well. Peggy Rawlings hit two triples, Wendy Shannon had a triple and two throwouts at second. La Bats Sandy Marshall pitched a good game. Sorry no more details - didn't get a writeup from the coach.

Thunder Buns 20, Black Widows 5
Buns stormed in on the Widows with a flash flood as their bats never stopped. Pat Morey had a triple and two doubles, going four for four. Goldie Cach hit two doubles along with Carol Spiteri, Kim Vinneau, Teri Korzack and Gail Houghton all hitting a double.

Widows couldn't get back to shore even though Wendy Farrowreed hit a triple, Stacey Hamilton hit a double and Susan Grant along with Suzanne Presswood each had a solit hit off of Carol.

JULY 15TH
Thunder Buns 13,
Tony's Tarts 7

The storm troopers are at it again, zeroing in on their target: the Tarts. Goldie Cash was tops on the mound and in stealing bases. Teri Korzack went three for three and was also stealing bases along with teammate Lisa Knoepfli.

Champagne on Ice 18,
Green Monsters 11

Looks like Champagne have aged on the rack long enough as they intoxicated the Monsters with hits and great plays. Lori Taylor, Wendy Shannon and Dawn Hilts all hit home runs. Lois Osborne hit a triple. Paulette Friolet hit two doubles.

Fay Brantford, Lynn Sargent and Wendy Shannon each hit a double.

For the Monsters, Virginia Walker hit a triple, Jennifer Reynolds and Lisa Switzer each hit a double, Chris Netten, Julie Hilts, Lori Sargent and Linda Anderson all had the bats going, but couldn't cut through those bubbles.

Travelling Blueberries 6
Bishops Queens 4

Travellers found their thrill as they swept Queens from their throne. Lauri Crazier hit a double, Debbie Anderson, Brenda Bennett, Bonnie Henderson, Jane Roberts-Long, Sharon Sargent and Wendy Watson were all awesome at bat.

Haywards stick with hockey throughout summer season

Georgetown natives Brian and Bruce Hayward have found an answer to those long summer months that break up the hockey season - ball hockey tournaments.

Started last year in Montreal, the three-on-three event was so popular that the Haywards decided to expand it to 10 different cities, nine of them in Southern Ontario and one in Montreal, Quebec.

"It's something that's definitely getting more interest. We saw three-on-three basketball had a big following in the U.S., so we thought street hockey might do alright here," said Bruce Hayward.

The turnouts went so well, it wasn't too difficult to convince some major sponsors to contribute to the project. Bruce said the companies like the idea because so many kids in Canada play street hockey, giving them a lot of contact with their product names at the tournaments.

There are several competitive age categories for each event, ranging from six to nine, 10-12, 13-14, 15-17 up to adult (competitive and recreational). At each tournament, prizes will be awarded to the overall championship team and the first runner-up in all the competitive divisions. Each championship team wins prizes of at least $500 in value while runner-ups will receive awards totalling a minimum of $200.

"The adult elite divisions play for cash, with $600 going to the first-place team, $200 to the second and $100 to the third and fourth place teams. It's definitely the fullest division, though the 10-15 age groups are pretty booked up too."

Bruce explained that minor hockey organizations in each of the communities also benefit from the tournaments. For supplying scorekeepers, referees and some other assistance, the local groups receive a percentage of the entry fees received from each team.

"It's a lot of work organizing everything, from getting permits for the arenas to setting up the boards and making the schedules. Being such a sports fanatic, though, I love it. The fun part is definitely seeing the playing, knowing that most of the work for the week is over."

Bruce said the format he and Brian came up with has made the game more exciting, allowing the goalie to play up and join the offense when that person's team has control of the ball. This way, it creates a three-on-two powerplay situation at either end, creating a lot of activity.

"We've also made the game a lot cleaner. Anyone who fights, hits or slashes will be ejected and those who fight will not be allowed to participate in any future three-on-three tournaments. Also, the ball we use is made from soft rubber and doesn't hurt if you get hit with it."
