

Get involved with TV production

By FLORENCE WILKINSON
Halton Seniors TV Productions, like so many activities, are having less meetings during the summer. However, this does not mean that our program will not be on the air if airing is possible. Different interviewers and the camera operators have been quite busy trying to get enough material ahead (in the can) to carry us into September. Some of the things to which our viewers may look forward include an interview with Mr. Oliver about the program which is now in place in Georgetown Hospital allowing home care and less time for a patient in the hospital; Seniors Bowling; Crime Awareness; Healthy Eating styles for seniors, Hearing Aids and how to go about getting what one needs; Flower Arranging; 60th wedding anniversaries and seniors and police choirs; and an interview on clowning.

Our organization has been a part of the Wellness Fair in Acton, during Seniors Awareness Week, and was also at the Georgetown Lifestyles. Many people stopped and visited at these events, but as yet, we have not gained more members in our group. We hope that by the Fall there will be some newly or formerly retired people who are interested in meeting to talk about the media, and likely become involved in some way in developing our shows.

Halton Seniors TV Productions would like to thank our viewers. Bit by bit we hear that there is quite a viewing audience, and feedback tells us what is enjoyed, and gives us a chance to find what you, the viewers, would like us to try producing. We are all amateurs. Some have had cameras for a hobby, or speaking experience, but all, when they started, were new to this kind of production. We appreciate that you like our programs in spite of their amateur quality, and hope that our fun and experimenting will continue to bring enjoyment to many others. Since a cable television station is required to run local programming in order to keep a license, it follows that programs like ours, however amateurish, enable you to tune in to other cable programming and enjoy the benefits of cable in the community.

The group, which meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month to develop ideas and organize who will do the work for the month, enjoys our time together, has lots of laughs, and combines people of Acton and Georgetown. So far, though Milton receives our cable, no one from Milton has come forward to join us.

We meet the first Tuesday at 9:30 in the offices of ASSIC in Acton, and the third Tuesday at 9:30 in the Trafalgar meeting room, Halton Hills, in Georgetown. If anyone wants to join the group you may do so by calling Gerry Tuffin, 877-8933; or Halton Cable Systems 853-1270 - or just show up some morning at 9:30 a.m. When I began I saw the ad in the newspaper and also on the Cable announcements. Since Jeff left the Halton Hills office we have not been advertised in the paper so often, but feel free to consider this article an invitation to become part of Halton Seniors TV Productions.
