

Action must be taken by the government

Dear Editor:

Unfortunately, current reality still necessitates municipal dumps. It is also unfortunate that private waste disposal companies can make far more money through burying garbage than recycling it. Incorporation and the legal system through delays and cost have made the owners of private dumps effectively immune from prosecution by individuals seeking their rights let alone any damages.

Halton is the site of many pits and quarries. Many of these may be viewed by their owners as potential garbage dumps. Since the provincial government refuses to make large scale recycling mandatory, local municipalities are forced to spend mega bucks to defend themselves from mega corporations. To fight each of the potential sites in Halton effectively is beyond our taxable capacity even with a drastic reduction in other services.

Why should we go broke at the whim of the provincial government?

Recycling will only work if it is mandatory or private dumps can be stopped at the local level. A fully effective veto on private dumps in the hands of local citizens through council and/or plebiscite would save millions of dollars from being wasted.

This NDP government appears to be just as lax with citizens taxes and basic resources (clean water and air) as any previous. Without mandatory large scale recycling or a local veto, Halton will become the impoverished garbage capital of Ontario.

It is time for the provincial government to act or be replaced.

Kit Woode,
Halton Hills.

Thanks for the coverage

Dear Sir:

Thank you for printing the game reports of the Under 10 Atom girls soccer teams during this past season. It is encouraging to the players, sponsors and parents when the staff of the local paper take an interest in mini-soccer.

The girls look forward to seeing their names in the paper as well as reading about the accomplishments of their friends and classmates. The paper's ability to publish the local sports reports for young people contributes to the close atmosphere and camaraderie that makes life in a small town so inviting.

Please convey my appreciation to your sports editor, Rob Risk and the office staff. I hope that you will continue your support in the coming years for the young Georgetown soccer players.

Sincerely,
Ruth D. Taylor,
Convener, Atom Girls
Under 10 Soccer,
Georgetown.
