Devison selected as first Ontario Boxing Commissioner

John Devison of Saskatoon, Sask., has been selected as the first Safety Commissioner for Amateur Boxing in Ontario.

Ontario Minister of Tourism and Recreation Peter North made the announcement Oct. 15 in conjunction with the Canadian Amateur Boxing Association and Boxing Ontario.

Devison, currently the Technical Director for the Saskatchewan Amateur Boxing Association, will report to the three-person volunteer boxing commission chaired by Jenny Reid of Kingston. The commission also includes Dr. Terence Mackenzie of Toronto and Bill Kavluk of Markham.

Ms. Reid, a Kingston lawyer, took part in the first sanctioned bout for women in Ontario, while Dr. Mackenzie, a former boxing champion, is a doctor at Wellesley Hospital in Toronto. Kavluk is a former Golden Gloves champion and policeman.

The commission members and the paid Commissioner have the support of the Canadian Amateur Boxing Association, Boxing Ontario and the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation.

Devison will enforce the safety standards of amateur boxing in Ontario, including registrations and sanctioning of events.

"John Devison has a wealth of experience in coaching, administration and boxing safety and his number one priority is to ensure the safety of our boxers," Mr. North said. "We're not taking any chances with our athletes; Devison will have the power to shut down or cancel any bout he feels is unsafe or not up to standards."

Mr. Devison's appointment is part of a Ministry plan to restructure the safety component of amateur boxing in Ontario and ensure that safety remains an integral part of amateur sport, fitness and recreation in Ontario. The appointment came after a Ministry review of safety standards within Boxing Ontario's jurisdiction.

Devison is expected to begin his new position on Dec. 2, 1991.

Legion's track and field camps a winning tradition

One-third of the Canadian track and field athletes and all Canadian medal winners at the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles were alumni of The Royal Canadian Legion's track and field camps.

Legion support for track and field dates back to the early 1950's. During those early days, Ontario Hydro Branch No. 277, sponsored the former Canadian Olympic Training Plan. The branch organized and sponsored a number of projects to finance the program, including invitational track meets and big band concerts.

The success of the program was such that the branch put forward a resolution at the 1956 Dominion Convention in Vancouver seeking the Legion's national support for the Olympic Training Plan. Since then, the Legion has remained a staunch supporter of amateur sport in Canada.

The track and field program is designed to provide training leading to competition at the national level for young athletes. It provides them with the opportunity visit other parts of Canada and mix with other athletes, coaches and trainers from across the country.

The program serves to remind participants that the Legion cares for them not only as athletes, but as citizens as well.
