

Marching to the beat

Royal Canadian Legion Air Cadet band members followed the drummers call down Acton streets during the 1991 Acton Santa Claus Parade Saturday. (Herald photo)

Lookout point

Michael McKeon of Acton had a good view of the Acton Santa Claus parade perched on his dad's shoulder. Poppa Mark McKeon seemed to be having just as much fun as his son. (Herald photo)

Give them a hand

Parade watchers put their hands together to show their appreciation for the performance puppets of the Acton Baptist Church float Saturday in the Acton Santa Claus Parade organized by Acton Firefighters. (Herald photo)

Riding in history

Heading up the Acton Santa Claus parade was Halton Hills Fire Chief William Cunningham and fellow firefighters in their refinished 1927 Studebaker fire truck. (Herald photo)

Following the piper

Members of the Streetsville Pipe and Drum Band provided musical entertainment to Acton Santa Claus parade watchers Saturday. (Herald photo)

Couple of clowns

What's a parade without candy-throwing clowns? The Acton Santa Claus parade was filled with clowns to the delight of children lining the parade route. (Herald photo)