

Norval residents celebrate 50th wedding anniversary

By KAY WILSON
Norval News

The family of John and Jean Brander, R. R. 1 Norval celebrated their parent's 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 8, at the Huttonville Community Centre.

Over 160 friends, relatives and neighbors called to extend their "Best Wishes".

friend Kathy McEachern, assisted in welcoming the guests.

Six grandchildren included Laurie and Kevin Cordeiro, Vicky and Scott Brander, and Sandra and Tyler Brander.

A buffet supper was enjoyed after by the Brander family at the home of Don and Gwen Brander, R.R. 1 Norval.

Christmas dinner, and who should arrive but Santa, with gifts for everyone.

Several rounds of euchre were played and winners were, Mable Hives, Mary Picket, Earl MacArthur, Nick Kostick, Margaret Wrigglesworth, Alan Harrop. Lucky draw - Mary Pembleton - courtesy of Webbs Flowers. Travelling prize, courtesy of Mae Brander - Marie Murray and Ethel Webb.

Huttonville United Church will have Cookie Plates for sale after the service next Sunday, Dec. 22, as well as Christmas Cook Books. Call Rosemary at 453-3485.

Conference '92 and the Educational Workshops were left till January for discussion.

We will remember our shut-ins and former members this Christmas season.

It was decided we will give $25.00 to S.H.A.R.E. to help with their work.

A note of appreciation has been received from the Norval Association for working with them in the Norval Celebration.

We discussed where we should place the plaques Norval W.I. received at these celebrations.

The roll call "What would you like Santa to bring you" was answered by 13 members and five guests.

The program was organized by Kay Wilson who unfortunately was unable to be with us and enjoy our traditional Christmas entertainment. The beautiful Christmas Story was read by members and guests interspersed by carols sung by Glenn Laidlaw and Doris Sharp accompanied at the organ by June Fries.

We then enjoyed a Carol singing led by our guests.

A musical gift exchange added a touch of fun. Jean May presented our guests with gifts of appreciation.

A lovely lunch and social hour concluded a very enjoyable evening.

Christmas Concert

Norval News

Special guests were Jean's sisters, Renee Pratley and Shirley Sinclair, and brothers Earl, Jim and John Davey, as well as John's brothers Bill and Clifford Brander and sister Flossie McCauley.

Pouring tea during the afternoon were Gertrude Shortill, Eileen Bush, Pat Cordeiro, Shirley Sinclair, and Sandra Brander.

The couples family - Pat and Charlie Cordeiro, Brampton; Don and Gwen Brander, Norval; Eileen and Rick Bush, Milton; and Ronald of Norval and his

Pinegrove Christmas Party

Pinegrove Community Club enjoyed its Christmas dinner Dec. 2 at the school.

The hot turkey dinner was beautiful.

Members had decorated the school along with a Christmas tree and an old coal oil lamp burning brightly, all added that touch of yester-year. Club members remembered school concerts, the platform (that every child loved), childrens voices ringing through the school, as they sang or recited, and proud parents occupying every plank seat available.

Now the community have bi-weekly euchres, along with their
