

Georgetown Highland Dancers

These lovely lassies, members of the Georgetown Highland Dancers, under the direction of Susan McCarroll, entertained the guests at last Saturday's Robert Burns Supper held at Georgetown Branch 120 Royal Canadian Legion. The dinner was presented by the Ladies Auxilliary of Branch 120 in support

Butts out, baby

Halton Hills' newest addition, Jamie Strachan, born Jan. 20 at 4:10 p.m. and weighing in at 7 lbs 3 ounces, was Georgetown's first baby born during this year's National Non-Smoking Week, Jan 20-26. Mother Julie Kidd has recently kicked the smoking habit and both are doing just fine. (Herald Photo by Steven LeBlanc)

ner at the Acton Legion. Recipients of the pin must be with the auxilliary for 10 years and be 65 years of age. (Herald Photo)

Black and beautiful

Annette Tancoo, an animal technician at the Acton Veterinary Clinic, holds up this litter of two-week-old black kittens which will be ready to be adopted in one month. The kittens were born in the clinic to a black cat which was brought in with a disfunctioning bowel system. The kittens are healthy however and will be given their first booster and de-worming shots before they're adopted out. Of the three, one is pure black and two are black with a white patch under their necks. If you're interested in adopting these black beauties, call the Acton Veterinary Clinic at 853-1450. (Herald Photo)
