

Melanie Jans scores two more trophies

Ladies' A Tournaments
Melanie Jans garnered trophies on two consecutive weekends, as she won both the Ladies' A Pine Valley Classic, and the Ladies' A Toronto Closed Championships. She was able to handle anything that was thrown at her during the matches, and achieved both victories in straight games.

Under-19 Junior Inter-Club

The Georgetown Under-19 Junior Team hosted Pine Valley Racquets Club and The Granite Club in a round-robin on Saturday, February 8. Against the Pine Valley crew, Kristy Lewis proved to be the lone stand-out, by defeating her opponent 3-1. Owen Jones, Keith Smith and Vineet Mitera provided more evidence that the Pine Valley Club has the best juniors in Ontario; they lost by 3-0 scores. The second match was a different story, however, with the GRC team cruising to a 3-0 win over the Granite Club. Owen Jones and Keith Smith each won without dropping a game, and Kristy Lewis showed great tenacity in achieving her second win of the day, with a 3-2 victory. The fourth position was defaulted by the opponents, and Greg Sinclair was on hand to graciously accept the poi...

Ladies' C Inter-Club

The Ladies played the Adelaide Club in Georgetown on February 4, and played heads-up squash to defeat their Toronto rivals 4-1. The No. 5 position was not contested, so Marg Herz was awarded a win. Janet Gorman walloped her opponent 3-0, playing No. 4. Myra Britton went down to the wire in reaching her 3-2 win. In the No. 2 game, Kristy Lewis was able to gain control of the match by running down every shot and improving her drives to length, which forced her adversary into "touring" the court. Sandy Lewis, playing No. 1, faced the toughest challenge; down 0-2, Sandy stayed in the match and slugged it out for three more, only to lose 5-9 in the fifth game.

D Team Inter-Club

The Georgetown team hosted the Markvale Racquets Club on February 4, but were defeated 1-4. Chris Kogon managed to snare a 3-2 win in a see-saw battle, playing the No. 2 position. Dave Jones lost his match 3-0, but did so in fine-running style. Paul Duval and Bill Voisin both challenged their opponents in their 1-3 losses. John Jones was noble in his 0-3 defeat.

Into the net

the last laugh beating Burlington 5-3. The two teams will do battle in the first round of playoff action this weekend. (Herald Photo by Lisa Boonstoppel-Pot)

Burlington Cougar Scott Bramwell (12) lifts one past Chrysler Raider goaltender Carmelo Guirleo in Saturday evening's first period, but Georgetown got

GBA looking to provide another great year of baseball fun

The Georgetown Baseball Association is looking towards providing another great year of baseball fun for the youth of Georgetown. Plans are underway for two registration nights in March followed by a third registration in April. Youths who plan to play baseball this summer should be sure to register early. Last season saw the largest number of participants with over 600 players registered. The number of registrations accepted will be determined by the playing fields that are available for youth play.

Youth who are interested in playing on a Rep. team this season, are advised that coaches are organizing for indoor workouts. Information about these workouts can be obtained from the following G.B.A. Rep. Managers: Junior T-Ball (age 8) - Dave Tales; Senior T-Ball (age 9) - Brian Hannah; Tyke (age 10 and 11) - Rick Lane; Minor Peeewe (age 12) - Scott Vandervalk; Major Peeewe (age 13) - Brian Bussell; Bantam (age 14 and 15) - Graham Smith; Midget (age 16 and 17) - Boyd Hoddinott and Juvenile (age 18 and 19) - Ted Barrow. Those who plan to attend Rep. workouts are reminded that they must register with the G.B.A. when they come to the workout. The basic registration fee for this season is $65. Players who play Rep. baseball will pay an additional $100 when the teams are selected.

The G.B.A. is currently looking for volunteers for the following positions: Director in charge of Batting Cage - this involves organization and scheduling the use of the batting cage. House League Conveners - this is a rewarding position and involves assistance in the recruitment of coaches, supervision of the league, keeping a record of game results, and acting as liaison between the league and its umpires and newspaper co-ordinators. Please phone Donna Blight 877-8379 or Dave Beavan 877-6425 if you are interested in helping with one of these positions or any other areas.

Midget boy's Basketball Rebs beat 46-39 by O.T.

REBEL REPORT

By STEVEN LeBLANC
Herald Sports Editor

Despite a strong performance and great work ethic, the GDHS midget boy's basketball Rebs came up with the short end of a 46-39 decision Feb. 4 at GDHS against Oakville Trafalgar Red Devils.

"I was a little disappointed with our defence. We were getting beat inside the key," said Rebel coach Jim Broughton.

Georgetown opened the scoring against the Devils when Peter Kristy took a pass from Ron Harrison and netted a nice lay-up. Soon after Oakville took control of the play with some solid drives down the court and quickly doubled up on the Rebs 8-4. Highlighting the first quarter, Rebel Gianni Marko scored an exciting three-pointer at the buzzer.

Solid defence and good passing plays were featured in the second quarter. Rebel Steve Onoprijenko dropped an impressive three-pointer and Marko scored a pretty lay-up. Missed opportunities came when Harrison was unsuccessful at both free throw shots after a Devil interference foul.

Highlighting second quarter action was Marko's second three-pointer at the buzzer to tie the game at 18 and the scrappy play of Ryan Martin. While lacking size and height, this youth put his heart and soul into the game and came up with some effective passes and broke up Devil drives to the net.

Marko netted two free throw shots to put Georgetown ahead early in the second half but Oakville played strong defence and managed to pull ahead by the end of the third quarter and held on for the win in the fourth.

High scorers for Georgetown were Gianni Marko with 10 points and Steve Onoprijenko with 11. Toli Toris and Peter Kristy each scored four points. Special mention goes to Ryan Martin for his strong defensive effort.

The midget Rebs' next challenge will come next Tuesday (Feb 18) when they take on St. Thomas Aquinas.

Sign Shoppe Sliders slip two big curling wins

Recreational curling went to the offence in true Redskins tradition at North Halton last Thursday.

Perhaps it was auction fever carried over from last Monday. Whatever it was it wasn't a low scoring evening at the rink.

Congratulations go to Al Moore and the Sign Shoppe Sliders. Their two big ends early in this week's game were to much for the number one Smith Automotive Wingnuts who have a habit of coming back in the late ends. This one went to the Sliders 10-6.

On the north side of the rink Dave Ashbee's Jaws feasted, well snacked on the Hog Liners with a steal in the 8th and a 7-6 victory. Barry Dunlop's Rockers blanked the 7th to keep the hammer coming home. The strategy worked and they downed LaGuy, another 7-6 score.

Ian Arnolds Ruby Begonias continue to wilt the opposition with their green house heat. This week it was Work That Body. Ken Irwin could only stand and watch as Arnold made his last rock, a hit and stick against three W.T.B. reds, for the 8-6 win.

At 9:00 p.m. Don Campbell's Hackers started things off doubling the Challengers 8 to 4.

Mike Fraser and the Frigidaire Frosty's chilled the Senators to the bone, breaking open what was a tight game in the 5th and going on to a lopsided double digit blowout. Ouch!

Scott Russel's 8 Enders dealt a similar blow to the Rinkhous with guest skip J.H. at the helm. Better hurry back Dave.

A piece of history

Members of the Beaver Lumber Major Novice Rep Team hold a Autographed Wayne Gretzky Game Stick, shown to them by Georgetown Kinsmen Club member and assistant coach Jack Wallinga. This stick will be the second prize at the annual Hockey Heritage Dinner draw held March 2. Tickets are $2 each. Front row (left to right) Todd Kerwin, Peter Veltman, Simon Deeley, Ryan Ellis, and Justin Normore. Middle row (left to right) Stephan Paulin, Riley McAneney, Jamie Reynolds, Matt Wallinga, Greg Bidwell, and Billy Jackman. Back row (left to right) Rick Sedore (head coach) Simone Saulnier, Andre Lefebvre, Jack Wallinga (assistant coach) and Gerald Veltman (assistant coach). (Herald Photo)