

Light up the Hills Ignition Night

The choirs were singing, the crowd was cheering and the hot chocolate was flowing at Dominion Gardens Park on December 1 at the annual Light up the Hills Ignition Night. Hundreds of people gathered at the park to watch as Mayor Rick Bonnette, Halton Regional Chair Gary Carr and Light up the Hills committee chair Gerry Kentner helped Santa switch on the park's Christmas lights for the very first time. The crowd enjoyed hot chocolate and gingerbread cookies from Tim Hortons, as well as live music from local music ensembles and school choirs.
