Spend an hour for the Earth

Earth Hour is fast approaching.

On Saturday, March 27, between 8:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., Earth Hour will be celebrated around the world. Earth Hour's objective is to increase public awareness of the need to conserve energy and to take action against climate change.

Last year, the Town achieved a 13.5 per cent energy consumption reduction! Around the world, Earth Hour reached about one billion people.

Two years in a row, our community collaborated to make Earth Hour a success. This year, we hope to do the same by demonstrating that it is possible to take meaningful and practical local action against climate change. The participation of our residents, businesses and community organizations is key to achieving our goal.

This year, we are again asking the community to demonstrate its commitment to protecting the environment by participating in Earth Hour! Earth Hour participation is voluntary, fun and informative.

To celebrate Earth Hour:

Enter into a draw for valuable energy-efficiency prizes. To do so, first register for Earth Hour at www.EarthHourCanada.org. Next, e-mail a confirmation of your participation and a description of how you will celebrate Earth Hour to the Office of Sustainability at jennifers@haltonhills.ca

Ivan is more than a driver; he takes a personal interest in everyone he drives. I know from my own family members who were touched by Ivan's kindness. Congratulations Ivan!

HEARING SCIENCES

Audiology and Hearing Aid Centre

"When you lose your vision, you lose contact with things. When you lose your hearing, you lose contact with people." Helen Keller

Many people find they stop going to social events that were previously enjoyed due to an inability to hear well. Asking for repetition becomes annoying and frustrating for everyone – the speaker and the listener.

Hearing technology has improved dramatically in the last 5 years. You may be amazed to know how well you can hear. Contact us for a complimentary assessment of your current hearing aids, if you are not satisfied with their performance.
