Fire department issues fireplace warning

Halton Hills Fire Protection and Prevention Services and the Office of the Ontario Fire Marshal are warning area residents about an unapproved vent-free fireplace that was sold at Liquidation World stores in Ontario.

efficiency and more tightly constructed homes means there is a possibility these appliances pose a significant CO risk.

The fireplaces are typically fueled by natural gas, operate without a chimney, flue or vent. The fireplaces manufactured by Pro-Com are not approved for sale or installation in Canada according to the Technical Standards and Safety Authority (TSSA).

Representatives of Liquidation World stores have stated their head office supplied the appliances and they thought the appliances could be sold in Ontario.

These types of appliances require sufficient combustion air to ensure complete combustion of the fuel and no production of carbon monoxide. Due to modern construction of trends and the shift to energy TSSA has issued a provincial offence order to Liquidation World stores head office to discontinue the sale of the appliances. However, the fireplaces have been for sale for some time, and many may have already been sold.

Anyone who has purchased such a unit is advised to return it to their local Liquidation World store and inquire how they will be reimbursed.
