

Mazda will kick off sales of the Mazda2 subcompact with a special Yozora trim model with a starting price of $19,280. Only 500 will be available.

Mazda2 Yozora launched

Mazda Canada Inc. has announced the launch of a special edition of its all-new 2011 Mazda2 subcompact: the Mazda2 Yozora.

The Mazda2 Yozora (yŪ-zo-ra), which means "night sky" in Japanese, is completely swathed in a brilliant black exterior finish and features a "2" themed decal package on the front driver's side bumper and fender.

A unique raised rear spoiler, short stubby antenna, chrome tailpipe and 195/45R16 Toyo Proxes T1R performance tires mounted on special edition 16-inch alloy wheels finished in silver and contrasting black add to the fierce design.

"Yozora" tailgate badge, unique "Yozora Edition" floor mats and 185/55R15 winter tires mounted and balanced on Mazda steel wheels, are also included with the special edition.

The Mazda2 Yozora is based on the entry-level Mazda2 GX trim (paired with either a five-speed manual or four-speed automatic transmission), with air conditioning and a Convenience package, which consists of heated door mirrors, remote keyless entry, jackknife key, steering-wheel mounted cruise control and audio controls, two additional speakers, exterior temperature gauge, trip computer, body-coloured door mirrors and handles, and interior silver accents throughout.

Exclusive to the Canadian market, the Mazda2 Yozora edition has a starting price of $19,280.

Only 500 units are being produced and they will be available in dealerships in July 2010.
