

DEKER

eLeCTRIC Ltd.

905-702-0515

www.dekerelectric.ca

...at your service

... at your doorstep

ESA/ECRA
#7003060

HOT TUBS, RENOVATIONS, PANEL REPLACEMENTS/SERVICE UPGRADES, KOHLER STANDBY GENERATORS

Georgetown Horticultural Society Plant Sale

Meghan Sippel (left) and her mom, Jane Opie, stock up at the sale.

ABOVE: Virginia Travis finds a little plant that is just her size.

Tsukiko (left) and Luna Keogh get ready for summer gardening.

Margie McCloskey (left) and Judy Vella go green.

ABOVE: Kyra (left) and Heather Scott have big plans for their new plants.

BELOW: Volunteers Hella Gruter and Sandra VanderWilp provide service with a smile.

LEFT: Georgetown Horticultural Society members Nancy Wilson (left) and Lil Taggart are ready to offer advice and a helping hand.

The green thumbs were out at the Gellert Centre on May 14 for the Georgetown Horticultural Society's Plant Sale and Silent Auction. Hundreds of people flocked to the annual sale where they stocked up on perennials, annuals, water plants, shrubs, trees, hanging baskets and other items in preparation for the summer gardening season. Georgetown Horticultural Society members were on hand to greet the shoppers, answer questions and help with transportation. Happy gardening!

Photos by Andrea Lefebvre

Bridging the Gap Memoirs Presentation

ABOVE: Richard and Helena VanderWal were thrilled with the work done by Faith Chappelle, Noah Murray and Alec Meneses.

RIGHT: Oscar Feenstra (seated) checks out his memoirs with authors Billy Bartens (left) and Connor Mick.

ABOVE: Hetty Vandermeer shows her memoirs to Caroline Terpstra while the authors – Elissa Keenleyside, Julia Over and Stephen Terpstra – look on.

For the last few months, the grade 7 students at the Halton Hills Christian School (HHCS) have been meeting with, interviewing and learning the life stories of local seniors in order to write the seniors' memoirs. The project was part of the Bridging the Gap program, which worked in conjunction with HHCS, the Bethel Christian Reformed Church of Acton, Acton's St. Joseph Catholic Church, the Churchill Community Church and Storylines. When their projects were completed, the students held a special reception where they read the memoirs aloud and presented the stories to the seniors.

Photos by Andrea Lefebvre

The grade 7 authors and their senior subjects gather to celebrate a job well done.