Couple hosts auction for Ride fundraiser

Corey and Merle Carlton, participants in the Ride to Conquer Cancer are having a fundraiser of silent and live auctions at the Georgetown Legion on June 5, 7-9 p.m.

The money raised will be going to The Ride. Corey and Merle each must raise a minimum of $2,500.

Up for bidding will be a couple of personalized hockey jerseys that will be auctioned—Team Canada with Crosby's name, and a Bobby Orr Boston Bruins jersey.

Gwen Greenstock, an independent jewelry and sales leader with Fifth Avenue Collection Jewellery, will be selling her jewelry and a percentage of the sales will be going to the fundraiser. If you're unable to make the silent auction you can place an order through Greenstock, www.fifthavenuecollection.com/ggreenstock and the credit will still be applied to the fundraiser.

Lasting Impressions is a giftware store located next door to the Georgetown Legion. Blake Smith, the owner of the store will keep his store open for the Carltons on Saturday, June 5th and will donate 25% of the total sales. Residents can also go into Lasting Impressions in advance, mention you're shopping in support of the Carlton fundraiser, and a credit will be applied to the fundraiser.

The silent auction tables will be full of merchandise from local businesses and friends supporting the event. There are gift certificates for restaurants, hair salons, gym memberships, car servicing, tanning salons and grocery stores; as well as amazing merchandise like a lamp, mirror, kitchenware, baby baskets, travel mugs, pet treats, BBQ sauces, floral arrangements, cookie jars to name a few things.

There are more than 150 items to be auctioned.

If you're unable to make the event go to the Ride to Conquer Cancer website, www.conquer-cancer where you can make an online donation to the Carltons and you will receive an instant tax receipt.
