

Andrews earns conference title

One of Kaitlyn Andrews's goals when she began her track & field career at Stephen F. Austin State University four years ago was to earn a conference championship and the 21-year-old from Georgetown accomplished exactly that recently for the first time. Tougling it out with an ankle injury, the Acton High School grad finished fourth in the shot put and 10th in the discus at the Southland Conference Outdoor Track & Field Championships in Arlington, Texas last month, helping Stephen F. Austin's women's team place first out of 12 schools entered. Andrews recorded a throw of 14.16m in the shot put and 41.02m for the discus competition. The kinesiology major can compete for her Texas-based school for a fifth year after being red-shirted during her sophomore season due to injury.
