

Focusing on "Business of the Month"

Every month, Chamber members and local residents have the opportunity to nominate a local business for the Chamber's Business of the Month award. The criteria for selection are: quality of service, unique products, and/or civic involvement which benefits the community. Companies are selected regardless of Chamber membership, and the Chamber presents each of the recipients with a plaque.

By Tracey Wellon and Cor Baarda

The recipients for this quarter are: Cancer Assistance Services of Halton Hills (April), Georgetown Market Place (May), and Superior Glove Works (June). Congratulations to all of you!

The Cancer Assistance Services of Halton Hills (CASHh) has, since its inception 10 years ago, become a very valuable volunteer organization servicing citizens of Halton Hills who have been impacted by cancer. CASHh has an extremely high client list of over 1,400 individuals who benefit from many practical assistance programs including transportation by 48 volunteer drivers. CASHh is always looking for more of "Halton's Most Wanted" to join their team of drivers. We in Halton Hills are very blessed to have such a service, as many communities don't. In fact, many times, these communities appeal to CASHh for either help or advice.

This award is shared with the Board, the staff, the clients and the donor community, because working together makes them an outstanding success. Congratulations to all!

The Georgetown Market Place works because, for the people who own it and those who manage it, it is a community mall (emphasis on community), not just a place to shop. Sometimes it's like an extension of a seniors' centre or a place to meet celebrities, and it's always a place to meet and be with friends.

The stores are the right blend to serve Georgetown's citizens and because mall management focuses on seeing it as a welcoming place, it is! That is the best way to run what is, when all is said and done, a business – the customers come, the tenants are satisfied and the Georgetown Market Place maintains its rhythm as an integral part of the community. Congratulations to everyone involved in making it work!
