Downtown Georgetown was transported back in time on August 20 for the 11th annual Rock 'N Roll 'N Classics. Hundreds of car enthusiasts flocked to the downtown core to check out the hundreds classic cars – dating from the 1920s to the early 1980s – that were on display and to listen to rocking music from KRUZ Radio and Rolly Rocker and the Hemi Heads. Downtown businesses and organizations celebrated this rocking evening with special deals and food in an effort to raise money for the Georgetown Hospital Foundation.
