Bottom right: Okay, it may be a pink Cadillac, but made of balloons? The creation was the brain-child of Lasting Impressions.

It's a never-ending job polishing as Russ Philip of Wasaga Beach made the trek in his 1932 Ford to show it off at the show.
