Laura McDonald

As a recent graduate of Nipissing University (2008), I lived in northern Ontario where my love and appreciation of nature and wildlife photography was cultivated.

I moved back to the GTA shortly after school and was fortunate enough to land a job with Credit Valley Conservation. My position there allows me to visit and work in some of the most beautiful areas in this part of Ontario on a regular basis.

Although nothing compares to the wildness up north, I have started to realize the value and beauty of the wildlife and ecosystems found in my own backyard.

I use a Sony a330 camera.
