

Unique Textiles exhibit opens

Barb Herner of Devereaux House puts the final touches on 'Milie', a dress form at Devereaux House, as part of the Timeless Textiles home crafts and fibre art exhibition. The exhibition features for the first time all local craft guilds together in one show, with sewing, knitting, weaving, rug hooking, cross-stitching and felting being featured in the show. The show officially opens Thursday Oct. 7, 7-9 p.m., and will be open every Thursday, 1-6 p.m., until Oct. 28. Devereaux House is located at 11494 Trafalgar Rd., Georgetown.

Brookville School marks 50th anniversary

On Nov. 21, 1960 Brookville Public School opened on Guelph Line in the community of Nassagaweya. Moving day was Friday, October 9. It was more of a fun day for the kids as they helped load their belongings onto school buses and moved to the new site. Enrolment that year was 274.

Brookville will be holding a recognition ceremony on Thursday, October 7, 5-8 p.m. with an open house, reception, and dedication of the school bell and the placing of a time capsule, to be opened in 2060. To learn more about the festivities, call Brookville Public School at 905-854-2424.

Get knitting, and more, at the library

Halton Hills Public Library, Georgetown Branch, invites you to its Knit Night on Thursday, Oct. 7, 7-8 p.m.

This group of knitting enthusiasts welcomes knitters and those who would like to learn for an hour of friends, books and all things knitting-ish! The group's knitting doctor will be in to provide help with a pesky pattern or other knitting questions.

Knit Night continues to meet on the first Thursday of every month. For more information, call 905-873-2681 or visit www.hhpl.on.ca
