

DEATHS

ATKINSON, Norma Elizabeth (nee Fendley)
 Long time member of the Ladies Legion Auxiliary Branch 15
 August 27th, 1925 - October 6th, 2010

Passed away peacefully at Brampton Civic Hospital. Long time companion of Elmer Brown. Dear mother of Paul and Sharon, Brian and Glenda, Wayne and Karen, Steve and Sylvia, Debbie and Mark, and Karen and Donnie. Loving grandmother of 8, great-grandmother of 8, and great-great-grandmother of one. A memorial service was held at MEADOWVALE VISITATION AND RECEPTION CENTRE, 7732 Mavis Road, Brampton on Saturday October 9th, 2010 at 11:00 am. In lieu of flowers, donations to the Ladies Legion Auxiliary Branch 15 would be appreciated by the family.

CARDS OF THANKS

THE Lyons family would like to extend their sincere appreciation to all the many friends and family who sent expressions of sympathy, floral tributes and generously supported charities at the time of John's passing. Special thanks to Pastor Wayne Melnychuk for his many visits and conducting an excellent service, Jones Funeral Home and Bruce Cunningham and his staff.

St. Alban's presents the Marion Singers

The Marion Singers perform in concert on Saturday, Oct. 16, 7:30 p.m. at St. Alban's Church, 537 Main St., Glen Williams.

Cost: $20 for adults; $10 for students w/ ID; $15 for seniors (65+). Call the church office, 905-877-8323.

The Marion Singers first introduced their unique vocal sound to an audience in 1992 when they gathered as friends to sing at the wedding of one of their members, Marion Thompson. They decided they liked the gig, and ever since then these accomplished vocalists have been donating their talents for the benefit of humanitarian causes and non-profit organizations in monthly concerts throughout the GTA.

The Marion Singers is a 16-voice ensemble whose concerts include a mixed repertoire of music styles including classic sacred pieces from composers such as Mendelssohn, Viadanna, and Tallis, as well as modern composers including Tavener, Lauridsen and Busto. They perform a wide range of fun secular music as well from a repertoire that includes old Canadiana, folk music from the British Isles and songs by Billy Joel and the Beatles.

The intimate atmosphere they create in concert with close harmonies, always sung a capella (without instruments), is a treat for every music-lover. Reception with refreshments to follow in the parish hall.

Rain didn't dampen Chamber golfers

Glen MacDonald of Georgetown Chev (left) and Mike Francis of State Farm Insurance found the weather was a bit iffy as they played in the Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce Golf Tournament at Eagle Ridge Golf Course recently. In spite of a damp start, the weather did clear a bit allowing some soggy, yet entertained, golfers enjoy the day.
