

We Have INVISIBLE Hearing Aids

Bring in this ad to receive
$60 OFF***
any digital hearing aid.

*Must be age 55+

INTRODUCING...

The world's first invisible hearing aid that fits deep into the canal and the almost invisible Open Fit technology.

To determine which option will work best for you, a hearing and lifestyle assessment is required. Speech clarity is dramatically improved. If you find that you can hear but not understand then one of these options may be right for you.

If you have been putting off getting the hearing help you know you need because you are self-conscious, you need to come for a trial with the new Invisible-In-the-Canal (IIC) or almost invisible Open Fit (OF) technology.

The Invisible-In-the-Canal (IIC) option fits deep into your ear canal to eliminate feedback and reduce listening effort. The Open Fit (OF) technology allows a more natural sound as the ear canal remains open for easy phone listening, reduced noise, greater comfort and clear speech.

See if the world's first invisible hearing aid is right for you!

Come in to meet our professionals:
Dr. Janice Cockburn: AuD, Reg. CASLPO, Doctor of Audiology

Magda Zielinski: Hearing Instrument Specialist
Glenn Hewie: Hearing Instrument Specialist

Call to book a COMPLIMENTARY HEARING TEST at a clinic near you:

BOLTON
905-857-5183
102-170 McEwan Dr. E

ALLISTON
705-435-4356
24-180 Parsons Road

ORANGEVILLE
519-942-9428
54 First Street

GEORGETOWN
905-877-0099
211 Guelph Street, Suite 1

WOODBIDGE
905-417-7255
26-9200 Weston Road

BRADFORD
905-778-2002
57 John Street West

HEARING SCIENCES
Audiology and Hearing Aid Centre

Summer Reading Club winners in Acton

Winners in the Halton Hills Public Library Summer Reading Club in Acton met with TD bank (Acton) manager Tara Murphy as she presented them with $25 which will be used for them to open an account at the TD Bank. Winners included, (from left) Jackson Valance, 6, Connor Kendall, 7, Murphy, Kenneth Byers, 10, and Halle Hughs, 8.

Photo by Ted Brown

Young writers receive library awards for their summer writing efforts

Halton Hills Public Library is happy to announce the winners in its Second Annual Ink Writing Project.

This program allows young people in Halton Hills the opportunity to express themselves through short stories, poetry, and illustrated fiction. The Ink Writing Project is divided into two categories: Inksters (Grades 4-8) and Inklings (Grades 9-11).

Twelve talented young people were presented their awards at the Georgetown Branch of the Library on Tuesday. They received copies of the Ink Writing Project booklet which collects their work, as well as $50 prizes sponsored by the Friends of the Halton Hills Public Library.

The booklet is available to be viewed and borrowed at either branch of the library.

Inksters

(Grades 4-6)

Poetry: The Spelling Bee by Montana

Florence Travis

Short Story: Life on Wheels by Rachel Detmers

Illustrated Fiction: Ella the Jellyfish by Clare Buonpensiero
(Grades 7-8)

Poetry (Tied): Off to War by Maya Venters and The Candy Store by Mariah Hanlin

Short Story (Tied): The Stove by Taylor Wilson, Otherwise Known as Our Saviors by Natasha Knowles and Mystery on Main Street by Madie Bennett

Illustrated Fiction: Dream Runner by Alexandra Armstrong

Inklings

(Grades 9-10)

Poetry: Emotions by Valarie Wood
Short Story: Stranded by Liana Sneltjes

(Grades 11-12)

Poetry: Lamentation of by Cassandra Hendry

Georgetown Summer Reading Club winners

Winners in the Halton Hills Public Library Summer Reading Club at the Georgetown branch met with representatives from Georgetown TD banks as they presented the winners with $25 which will be used for them to open an account at the TD Bank. Reading Club winners included (front, from left) Julianna Smith, Alexandra Skyba, Jacob Kelly, Lucas Seigliano, Taylor Flynn and Hannah Oesch. In back, Evan Hein, TD Guelph St. branch manager Genny Criminale, Main St. branch manager Oliver Torralba, Mountainview Road S. manager Brenda Dawicki, and Jessica Miller.

Photo by Ted Brown