The 'eyes'
have it

Georgetown optometrist Dr. Caroline Teske admires a pair of 'eye glasses' decorated by Ecole Sacré-Coeur Junior Kindergarten student Chloé Athanasou. 4, to build awareness of the Ontario Eye See. Eye Learn program, which provides OHP-insured eye exams and free eyeglasses for Junior Kindergarten children in conjunction with Halton school boards.

Garden to aid food bank vandalized— again

By LISA TALLYN
Staff Writer

Members of the Ecole Sacré-Coeur Environment Committee carefully plant their garden each year and eagerly await the harvest. The garden was vandalized again this year.

They love to watch their efforts come to fruition, but are frustrated and disappointed that someone has damaged their plants and trees and stolen their vegetables—three times since July.

The garden and other plantings are a school project that took seven months of planning. "We had to draw a plan, then we had to plant it."

ter sent to The Independent & Free Press. "Our vegetable garden produces an abundance of vegetables that we donate to the Georgetown Broad Basket, an organization that most of you are familiar with."

Turn clocks back

Halton Hills residents are reminded to turn their clocks back one hour Saturday night before going to bed as we return to standard time at 2 a.m. Sunday. Residents should also change the batteries in their smoke alarms.
