The Georgetown Bread Basket (Food Bank)
The Georgetown Bread Basket (food bank), first opened the doors to the hungry, in 1996. In 1997 they became an accredited member of the Ontario Association of Food Banks and a registered not-for profit food bank.

The GGB is run by volunteers in its entirety. A group of up to twelve directors meet at least monthly to plan the daily activities, and other volunteers, from the area, give generously of their time weekly, Wednesday and Saturday from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. to collect and sort food and assist the clients in their shopping. We are able to serve the clients due to the generous donations of both food and cash, that we receive from you, the community.

Until four years ago the food was all non perishable. Then came the (Good Food Box) Fresh Food Box, of fresh fruits and vegetables. Thank to donations from the Rotarians and Kiwanis the GBB is able to offer these boxes, to our clients, on a monthly basis. This helps to achieve the Vision "to promote access to healthier eating for clients".

In association with ReFresh Foods, a new regional food collection and distribution initiative, we will have access to surplus perishable (including healthier fresh and frozen food) from corporate suppliers. ReFresh Foods enhances the type and quantity of food donations distributed in Halton by using a refrigerated hybrid truck for distribution of food donations. This DOES NOT change the Georgetown Bread Basket method of collection or distribution of food, but enhances the selection of food for our clients.

We will continue to work in partnership with the great community of Halton Hills to meet the needs of many adults and children in Halton, who do not have adequate access to nutritional food - those who live below the poverty line. Yes, even in Halton Hills, hunger and poverty do exist and we must strive to meet the needs of those who cannot afford what we often take for granted.
