

crave
all i want for christmas is...

more.

*...more meaning,
more love,
more satisfaction.*

*"My soul craves
but for what I do not know."*

Have you experienced all this world has to offer
but you know there's something missing, something more?

*More meaning to your life?
More depth in your relationships?
More significance?
More contentment in your life?*

Have you asked yourself if there is more to life than this?

In our fast-paced lives and the rush of the season,
we can easily ignore the deeper cravings of our lives.

Join us this Christmas as we explore how God can satisfy our deepest cravings.

God wants you to have so much more.

ATHLETES of the week

Acton High School		Christ the King		G.D.H.S

Taylor Wint	Tyler Christopher	Jillian Borsuk	Mitchell Giroux	Kendra Blackbourne	Mackenzie Storey

Acton High School Athletes of the Week are Taylor Wint and Tyler Christopher. Both are members of the Bearcats' varsity basketball team. Wint, who plays point guard, was selected for scoring 13 points and his great defence against Burlington Central. Christopher, a forward, was chosen for his four points and several rebounds against Bermuda's CedarBridge in an exhibition contest.

Georgetown District High School Athletes of the Week are Kendra Blackbourne and Mackenzie Storey. Blackbourne, a member of the Rebels' wrestling team, was cited for her strong showing at the GDHS tournament, earning first place in the 61-kg class, as well as volunteering to help at the tournament. Storey, a shooting guard on the junior Rebels' basketball team, was chosen for being the team's leading scorer, before he broke his ankle.

Christ the King Catholic High School Athletes of the Week are Jillian Borsuk and Mitchell Giroux. Borsuk, a setter on the Jaguars' senior girls volleyball team, was selected for her great leadership, setting and serving in a straight-sets win against Oakville-Trafalgar. Giroux, a small forward on the Jags' junior basketball team, was chosen for 10 assists against O-T in a 47-42 CtK victory.
