Town signs option for possible arena site

The Town and Fernbrook Homes have entered an option agreement until January 2016 for seven acres of land— the former proposed public high school site on Eighth Line, between the Gellert Centre and the new fire station.

The agreement is for $750,000 per acre— $5.25 million.

The land, if the Town goes ahead with its option in 2015, will likely be used for a future arena site.

Georgetown library eyes March closure

Halton Hills Public Library is targeting March 21 as the closure date for the Georgetown branch as the renovation/expansion to the Halton Hills Cultural Centre & Library begins.

The library branch's temporary site in the former Holy Cross Church on Maple Ave. is set to open on April 5.

Renovations on the Holy Cross location will begin in February. Wellington County Archives has offered to store the library's archives for free for duration of the renovation/expansion of the Georgetown branch.

Meanwhile, the new Acton Library is nearing completion in mid-January with an official opening/open house in February. The Friends of the Library have donated $5,000 towards a fireplace for the new building.

Six Months to a Great Smile

New Technology | Affordable | Nearly Invisible | Six Months

The Six Month Smiles cosmetic braces system is a new, short term, and affordable option to straighten your teeth.
