

Georgetown Little Theatre has something for everyone in the community

By ROXANNE THORTON
Georgetown Little Theatre

This year, Georgetown Little Theatre Productions Inc. celebrates 50 years of sharing their passion, their talent and devotion to providing quality, inexpensive entertainment to the community.

Community groups originally grew out of a desire to keep theatre alive in a time when movies were replacing professional playhouses. Today they have even more competition, but groups like GLT work hard to keep inexpensive, accessible theatre alive for all of us.

They have weathered the storm to provide an evening of laughs, drama and mystery using their pooled talents and limited community resources.

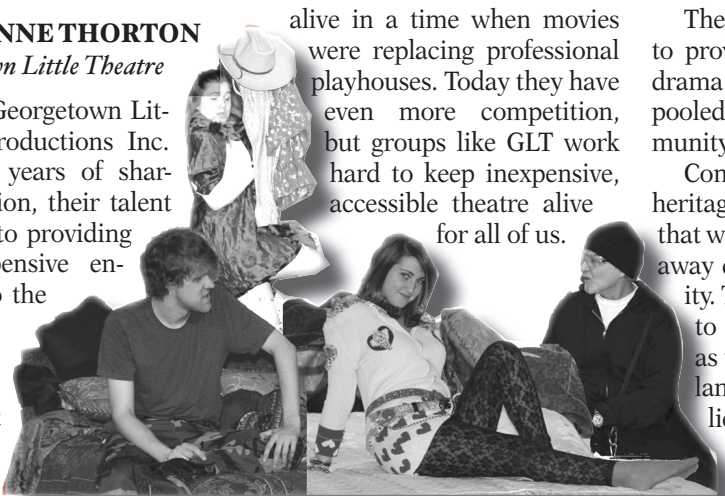

Community theatre given us a heritage, a sense of community, that we must value and not let slip away due to restricted accessibility. They have given us a chance to come together and be one as we are whisked away into a land of fantasy and make believe.

In celebration of our 50th season, GLT has introduced a Sunday afternoon matinee for both Bedtime Stories— adults only— (this Sunday, Feb. 27) opening at the John Elliott Theatre (JET) on February 25, and our April show Enchanted April on April 17th at Christ the King High School. Hopefully this will enable both new and returning patrons and seniors and families who prefer an afternoon outing to be able to once again enjoy quality community theatre.

GLT's members love what they do, and willingly share their talents with others. Hopefully GLT's new matinees will enable more members of the community to be able to come and share that love with us.

For tickets please call the JET Box Office 905-877-3700. Group rates are also available. So why not organize a group or bring that special someone, to see our plays that will bring colour, laughter and warmth to a cold winter evening. Hope to see you there.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION CENTRE #2

Transportation Master Plan to 2031 - The Road to Change PR-2414

Background

Halton Region has initiated a Transportation Master Plan (TMP) – The Road to Change to develop a sustainable, integrated transportation plan and associated strategies that consider all modes of travel (automobiles, transit, cycling, walking) to the year 2031.

Problem Statement

The Master Plan will provide the strategies, policies and tools required to meet the Region's transportation needs safely, effectively and cost efficiently.

The Process

This Transportation Master Plan is a study which defines existing problems/opportunities, considers and evaluates solutions, and will identify an optimum transportation system to the year 2031. A key outcome of the study is a list of transportation projects that the Region can incorporate in its 20-year Roads Capital Program. To comply with the Environmental Assessment Act, the study is being conducted in accordance with the Municipal Class Environmental Assessment (EA) process (October 2000, as amended in 2007).

The first round of Public Information Centres were held March 2010 to present the study background, vision, guiding principles, and problems and opportunities. Thereafter, a preferred transportation strategy was determined taking into consideration comments that were received from the Local Municipalities, regulatory agencies and the public. A second round of Public Information Centres has been arranged to review the preferred transportation strategy and receive comments from the public.

Working together to plan our future

As we move forward with a new term of Regional Council, we want to hear about what matters most to you as we create our new strategic work plan. What are the top three things Council should focus on over the next four years to make Halton an even better place to live, work, raise a family and retire? How would you improve the quality of life in Halton?

In January and February, we heard from many engaged citizens who shared with us their vision for Halton's future and we want to keep working together as we plan what to focus on. Tell us what you think by filling out a quick, four-question survey at www.halton.ca/strategicsurvey, sending us an email, calling us or checking www.halton.ca/strategicworkplan regularly for other opportunities to share your views.
