TransCanada Energy's Halton Hills Generating Station in the 401-407 Gateway Business Park has received an award from the Ontario General Contractors Association.

The award, to be presented later this month, is for the design and construction of the Town of Halton Hills sign fronting onto Hwy 401, Mayor Rick Bonnette announced at the March 21 council meeting.

"The Halton Hills sign is visible to literally millions of travellers each week. The sign's design was subject to the Town's approval during the site plan process," said Bonnette, singling out the Town's Manager of Parks Warren Harris who worked with TransCanada on the final design.

The sign, which displays the Town's corporate colours, is fully lit at night on an extensively landscaped lawn.

"It is welcoming feature for all those who pass or stop by Halton Hills," the mayor said.
