Trinity Church to host unique fashion show

Do you remember the days when your mother's or grandmother's kitchen was filled with wonderful smells of baking or cooking and there front and centre was mom or grandmother wearing her apron?

Those delicious memories can be evoked again at Trinity United Church's fashion show fundraiser, "Wearing Your Mother's Apron" on this Saturday, May 7 at the church on Mill St. in Acton.

So far, organizers Mary Ann Austin and Linda Inglis have collected or made more than 200 aprons from vintage to modern. They include one apron more than a century old and another created by Acton resident Ron Birrell, made entirely from duct tape.

There will be two shows— one at 2 p.m. and the second at 7 p.m. Aprons will be available for sale after the shows.

All six Acton banks are making aprons and entering them in a contest at the evening show. The public gets to view aprons and vote for their favourite. A similar contest is being held in the afternoon focusing on the submissions of local churches.

"The contest adds a little bit of fun to the show and gets the community involved," said Austin.

Tickets are $10 and include dessert and coffee, plus door prizes. They are available from the church office, 519-853-2090, Mary Ann, 519-853-1081 or at the door.
