

Local woman in the running for Pepsi Refresh $100,000 grant Local businesswoman Chantal Garneau has submitted an idea to the Pepsi refresh-project, and is vying for a $100,000 grant. Garneau's idea is Empower Canadian Youth by Reducing Stress and Fostering Resiliency and is currently ranked 48th (as of May 18). Local residents can vote for Garneau as many times as possible between now and the closing date June 30.

Garneau's goals are to increase the resiliency of Canadian youth, helping them to reduce their stress levels, helping youth to feel empowered and purposeful and provide youth with a meaningful opportunity to work with peers and be paid.

Garneau is still in the planning stages and hopes to set up an advisory group with community partners, facilitate 30 workshops with youth, produce a relevant website and online social media campaign, create and distribute 300 resource kits and participate at national and local youth conferences.

To vote for Garneau's idea go to www.refresheverything.ca/empower.

Garneau has more than eight years experience in the youth mental health promotion field and currently runs a practice as a meditation and intuitive life coach, www.chantalgarneau.com.

Proposed Additions to Waste Collection Services in Rural Halton Hills

We want to hear from you

Halton Region is responsible for providing a sustainable solid waste management system to all Halton residents. In 2004, Halton Region implemented roadside Blue Box collection to all rural residents. At that time, roadside garbage collection in rural Halton Hills was also considered but not approved based on feedback from local residents. In 2008, the GreenCart program was implemented as it is collected in the same truck as the Blue Box material. Since 2008, many residents have inquired into the feasibility of receiving roadside garbage collection. As a result of these requests, the Town of Halton Hills has asked that Halton Region consider adding the same level of waste collection to rural Halton Hills that is provided in the other rural areas of Halton.

Current waste collection services

(Blue Box and GreenCart will continue to be collected weekly)

Blue Box collected once a week.

GreenCart collected once
a week.

Proposed additions to waste collection services:

Garbage collection once every other week
(six bag/can limit)

Bulk waste collection eight times per year (three item limit per collection)

Metal and appliance collection on a call-in basis (available all year)

Rural areas of Halton Hills affected by this proposal are shaded in green.
