

Homewreckers!

Two homes came tumbling down last week in Georgetown.

Left: Andrew Skok of Skok Excavating in Georgetown, rendered the burned out remains of the house at 26 Rexway Drive into a pile of rubble as he demolished it Thursday. New owner Amar Saluja of Ground to Gable Home Inspections will rebuild a raised bungalow on the same property, using local trades and services.

Right: On Friday, the home at 50 Market Street was demolished to make room for the new Halton Hills Library renovations.
