Signing the mortgage renewal can cost you money.

Almost 9 in 10 people stay with their existing lender when their mortgage comes up for renewal. When the renewal offer comes, many people simply sign it back and are done with it. By doing this, it means that banks hit the naïve, unsavvy and complacent consumers with high rates. Don't fall into this trap without a fight. By using a mortgage broker, you gain with the power of negotiation as it is in their best interest to service you as well as get you the very best rate possible. To win at this game, find yourself a broker you trust and provides great service so you can master your mortgage!
